Record County Budget $5,756,897

$75,000 Added as Cost Of Senate Elections; $4,450,858 Levy Set

An additional appropriation of $75,000 to finance the special primary and general election for state senator for the 33rd district boosted the annual Madison county budget to a record $5,756,897 adopted by the county board of supervisors Wednesday morning.

The total tax levy for all purposes is $4,450,858, an increase of $906,713, including a levy for county general purposes of $1,226,383, a decrease of $246,000.

The new budget, up $86,572 over that of last year, provides for $30 per month across-the-board salary increases for all county employees and a per diem increase for half of the members of the county board from $20 to $25. Money remains at 10 cents. The pay hike will cost about $85,000.

It also provides for 10 additional night riders at a cost of $60,000 for the sheriff's office, plus two additional patrol cars.

New Buildings
Construction of new buildings set in the budget include a new county sheriff's office at the county jail site, with $60,000 allotted, and a new TB clinic, with $30,000 set aside. Another $125,000 was budgeted to pay for TB patients at other hospitals.

Other expenses will include replacement of a wall and foundation at the county jail which have cracked to a dangerous point, and razing of part of the chimney at the jail boiler and repairs to nursing home walls which were cracked during the Nov. 9 earthquake.

During the meeting it was reported that construction delays at the new juvenile detention home will not be in operation until the latter part of March.

Of the total tax levy, $1,226,383 is for county general purposes. A decrease of $246,000, while the total general purposes appropriation is $2,410,433, down $28,083.

Budget Amendment
An amendment to the budget provided 11 assistant state attorneys at a cost of $26,000, rather than six at $60,000, as recommended by R. W. Griffith, who will become state attorney next month. The amendment was no resultant increase in the overall budget as an adjustment was made in other expenses in the department.

Leslie Pehn, finance committee chairman who reviewed the budget in detail, said that it will be out-of-balance by about $450,000, but he noted

STANDING WATER such as this at Myrtle avenue and Victory drive was a topic of aldermen Monday night. The storm sewer contractor says in many instances, such as the one above, the cause is utilities relocating their lines. (Story on page 34.)

Greater Need This Year

'Tree of Lights' Campaign Opens Saturday--$6000 Goal

The annual "Tree of Lights" campaign, sponsored by the Salvation Army to provide baskets of food and clothing and toys for needy Quad-City families at Christmas, will start Saturday with a goal of $6000. Edwin Reiske, president of the Tri-City Trades and Labor Council who is this year's campaign chairman, will be master of ceremonies at the kick-off, dutch treat luncheon at the YMCA at noon and the in Memorial Park about 1 p.m.

Capt. Harold Thomas of the Salvation Army announced today that applications for baskets will be taken the week of Dec. 2-6 at the Salvation Army office, 1229 Nineteenth street, near E. Belmont avenue. The office hours will be 9 a.m. to noon and 1 to 4 p.m.

Last year, the $6000 goal was attained, and the Salvation Army with the aid of other organizations, processed over 700 baskets. This year, because of the large number of industrial strikes in the area, the number is expected to be greater.

For the kick-off luncheon, Rev. Merin Mouser of the First Church of God on Pershing avenue will be the guest speaker. Music will be provided by a 16-member choir of the Granite City high school and a music department under the direction of Warren Simpson.

The choir and Rev. Mouser also will take part in the tree-lighting ceremony at Memorial Park, across from St. Elizabeth Hospital.

The trailers must be in compliance with the city codes relating to construction, wiring, plumbing and sewer facilities and other regulations applicable to single family dwellings, except as to the size and location of windows and doors.

Concern was expressed by several aldermen as to random location of trailers in residential subdivisions. City Atty. Allen said that if any subdivision has restrictions prohibiting house trailers, the restriction would have precedence over the amendment.

Opposing the ordinance amendment were Aldermen Rutledge, Fry, Jarrett and Johnson. Votes approving were Aldermen Dallas, Moerlein, Bartoski, Whitmer, Boyd, Poulos, Green, Banasich, Nunn.

Service Station Burglary, Looted Car Among Crimes

Theft from a service station, a looted auto and a fraudulent purchase were among six major crimes reported to Quad-City police this week.

Burglars broke into the Deep Rock Service Station, Fifth street and McCambridge avenue, stole $330 in cash that was locked in a cabinet and took a quantity of motor oil and antifreeze and a 12-volt battery, according to a report to Madison police Monday.

Ronald Lupardus, 2024 Elm street, who reported the break-in to Madison police, said that in addition to the cash and battery, the thieves left with three cases of oil and four cases of antifreeze, and a 12-volt battery.

Entry was gained by prying off a bar across a rear door. Esther Anderson, Quincy, Ill., said that her auto was looted while it was parked at 2416 Winter drive. Entry was gained by using a wire to unlock the door.

Taken were $30, six suits, two car coats and some blouses, all valued at $350. A woman obtained a black

Merit System for Sheriff Dept. Is Favored by Board

A merit system for the Madison county sheriff's department was favored unanimously by the county board of supervisors Wednesday afternoon when it ordered an ordinance drawn for later action.

The department, meanwhile, is to be expanded by 10 additional night riders to provide increased police protection for the county. Funds for the additional men, two more patrol cars and uniforms were approved yesterday in the county budget.

Under the merit system, a board of commissioners will be appointed by the chairman of the county board. It will formulate rules governing the selection of personnel, subject to the approval of the supervisors.

Check Other Counties
Raymond Galloway of Alton, chairman of a special merit system committee, reported that outside of Cook county, eight counties in Illinois operate sheriff's departments under a merit system and personnel interviews by his committee with sheriffs and deputies in Peoria, Decatur and Urbana where the system was strongly supported. He said local county residents interviewed favor the plan.

Galloway said the system would provide for the welfare and protection of trained police personnel, provide job security and be of significant aid to the sheriff.

With the additional personnel, Sheriff George Musso plans to divide the county into quarters, posting a two-man patrol car in each of the four quarters to be on a standby basis.

The sheriff's department now has a list of 100 servicemen in county highways between 5 p.m. and 9 p.m., with 12 night riders working shifts of 5 p.m. to 1 a.m. and 1 to 9 a.m.

GC Steel Strikers To Vote On Pact

Contract Offer Subject To Secret Balloting In Friday Meetings

Striking members of International Chemical Workers Union Local 50 will vote in two meetings tomorrow on acceptance or rejection of a contract agreement offered by Granite City Steel Co.

Frank Renzo, Collinsville, business representative of the union, said the voting will be by secret ballot in meetings to be held in the Labor Temple at 9 a.m. and 7 p.m.

The latest contract offer was extended to negotiators by company representatives in an 11-hour mediation session last Friday. Details of the offer were considered again Monday in a three-hour meeting at the U.S. Mediation offices in St. Louis, at which an announcement that a membership vote on the pact would be taken.

Union and company officials made no comment on terms of the proposed agreement pending action by union members.

Wages Main Issue
The Chemical Worker has been demanding wage increases well above those granted by the company to more than 3000 United Steelworkers of America employees in past years.

Nearly 1000 Chemical Workers are employed at the blast furnace department. They went on strike last week.

The company has said repeatedly it could not make a deal without conceding to demands for a 10 percent raise for workers. Terms of any new agreement would have to be based on the basic steel package which has been incorporated in new steel industry contracts.

In addition to the nearly 1000 Chemical Workers, 1500 steelworkers and other employees who have been laid off since the strike began are expected to be back to work by Friday.

The company announced 465 layoffs last Monday, and said more than 800 had been laid off previously and reported several hundred others were off their jobs on early vacations.

Negotiations were being made for voting on the blast plant contract tomorrow, but the company said it would not be held if the 132 Quad-City workers in two other major strikes in the Quad-City area were to vote.

Representatives of General Steel Industries and United Steelworkers of America met last Tuesday in discussion of disputed contract terms.

Election Dates Changed For State Senator Special Vote

A change in the primary and general election dates for a special election of state senator for the two-year term of Lt. Gov.-Elect Paul Simon of Troy was announced today, resulting in subsequent changes in the filing dates for candidates.

Final determination of the legal filing and election dates came in an early rush got underway by a large number of potential candidates who indicated interest in seeking the post.

Only announcement came, however, from Earl Vungnuxnaux, 37-year-old Edwardsville, attorney, who said he is considering plans to file on the Democratic ticket in the senatorial primary. He said he has not made a definite decision and plans to meet with civic and political leaders before he does so.

Dates In Error
Last week Gov. Samuel H. Shapiro announced he would Feb. 25 as the date of a primary and April 15 as the date of an election in the ten Madison townships of the 33rd senatorial district.

Under election laws, those dates required filing period beginning last Monday, Nov. 18, and ending next Monday, Nov. 25.

It was later determined those dates did not conform with election statutes and Gov. Shapiro issued a second writ ordering the filing of the senatorial primary on March 11 and the general election on April 29.

The action rescinded the filing period to open on Dec. 2 and ending Dec. 9, Dec. 14 will be the last date for filing. The petition period for the election will be extended to Jan. 8.

The petition, filed by Allen and Mudge as "citizens, residents and taxpayers" challenges the legality of action by Gov. Samuel H. Shapiro in setting a date for the special primary and election. The petition alleges the only election law which the election could be called is "one that states specifically the election may be called" when a vacancy exists. The petition points out Simon has not yet resigned the post.

The action is directed against the action of State Paul Powell and Madison County Clerk Eulalia Hotz. It asks the court to restrain Powell from accepting and filing petitions of candidacy, and requests the court clerk be prohibited from polling places. The petition points out Simon has not yet resigned the post.

Gov. Shapiro set the primary for April 29, and the election for April 29. Allen and Mudge also charge that the cost of the election would be $25,000 to $75,000.

Six Local Youths To Be Drafted Friday
Six Quad-City men are to report for military training to the county selective service office in Edwardsville for armed forces induction, and another 12 are to be drafted for physical examinations.

So far this year, 132 Quad-City men have been drafted, and another eight are scheduled to be drafted on Dec. 6, when the pre-induction call is for five men.

This month's draftees are to be at least 21 years of age, and have been in the armed forces for at least 20 years.

3 DAYS WITHOUT A QUAD-CITY TRAFFIC FATALITY

Granite City aldermen were advised Monday night it will be necessary to revamp the city's 30 voting precincts to conform with the new seven ward boundaries in time for the anticipated Feb. 11 primary election.

Alderman Bartoski recommended that work begin now to study the population charts to complete the task as quickly as possible.

The city's 30 voting precincts vary in many instances from the 32 township precincts that are in operation for the Nov. 5 general election.

"I don't see how we can work out any uniform precinct boundaries in other economic transactions. Granite City Steel Co. already has predicted a loss at the end of the current year. The company has been buying slab steel on the open market and rolling it in the mill to service its customers.

While these losses relate only to the 20 idle workers, the strikes have had an equally severe economic impact on operation of the plants where there are no strikes.

The effects also are felt by retailers and other businesses in the area where buying has dropped sharply because of the loss of weekly paychecks. The loss of weekly paychecks has the effect of doubling the value of the original amount since it is used in other economic transactions.

File Dates For Mayor Primary Uncertain

Confusion Results In Interpreting Changes In Election Statute

Official confusion over legal filing dates for a mayoralty primary which must be held in Granite City this year if more than two candidates seek the post developed today as City Clerk Homer Pendleton interpreted preparations for the 1969 primary and general municipal elections.

Uncertainty over the filing period for mayoralty candidates results from adoption of an amendment to state election laws in the General Assembly last July, requiring the primary only if more than two candidates run for mayor. Since there is no way to predict how many candidates will file, most cities and villages plan to set up earlier filing periods and conduct a mayoralty primary if it is required by multiple candidates.

Various interpretations as to how the amended election law affects candidate filing at the time of the filing dates.

Pendleton two weeks ago announced a filing period of Dec. 23 to Jan. 7, with January 11 the final date for withdrawals. The primary election will be held Feb. 11. Pendleton said he secured these dates through statutory references from the Illinois Municipal League.

Checking Statutes
Question as to the legality of these dates was raised by City Attorney Richard Allen, who is still researching election statutes and attempting to determine the proper filing dates for the mayoralty primary.

The office of Secretary of State Paul Powell, however, has distributed a set of election dates which provides primary filing dates from Dec. 4 to Dec. 11, with a withdrawal deadline on Dec. 19.

Pendleton points out that these dates are listed in the secretary of state's election calendar as based on Chapter 46, paragraphs 7-12 of the Illinois Statutes which pertain, according to the heading, to filing of candidates as political parties. These have been new in statutes in Granite City in which candidates have filed under party headings.

Meanwhile, nominating petitions for mayor had been obtained.

City Spending Well Ahead of Last Year

Granite City PRESS-RECORD
Page 2 Thurs., Nov. 21, 1968

Municipal spending in Granite City reached a total of $1,360,382 during the first half of the current fiscal year and is running well ahead of city operational costs for the same period a year ago, according to figures reported to city council members Monday night.

The report showed total city expenses of $1,360,382 for the half-year period, an increase of $240,557 over total expenses of $1,119,825 for the first half of the 1967-68 fiscal year.

All of the increases was reflected in general fund accounts where spending actually was $16,880 higher than that of last year's six-month period. The overall increase was reduced, however, by a drop in expenditures from other city funds.

General fund spending from last May 1 to Oct. 31 totaled $1,012,824, the report showed. General fund spending for the same period of the previous fiscal year, amounted to $965,935.

Includes Salary Increases
Higher costs result primarily from substantial salary increases approved in the 1967-68 city budget. Six months of expenditures in the fire department, for example, amounted to $168,433, compared to six-month expenditures of $140,196 for the department last year.

Expenditures in the police department for the first half of this fiscal year total $181,008, compared to $172,727 last year. Six-month costs of the sanitation department this year amounted to $36,895. Costs for the same period in the previous fiscal year were $64,040.

Costs for general government this year amounted to $67,894, compared to $60,452 last year. The street department, however, spent less this year than it did a year ago. Costs for six months this year total $104,671, compared to $109,350 for the same period a year ago.

In all other funds, expenditures for the first half of the year totaled $289,973, while expenditures from those funds for the six months of the 1967-68 fiscal year totaled $283,880.

The report showed that expenditures to Oct. 31 out of the general reserve account of transferable funds amounted to $42,601. Bulk of expenditures from the city's special accounts were made out of the motor fuel tax fund, totaling $281,620 for the six-month period.

Johnson Road Costs
Largest account among these was payment of construction costs on Johnson road improvements, amounting to $194,394. The city also has paid out of the motor fuel tax fund this year a total of $77,731 for arterial street maintenance.

Never Before
Rutledge, who has held the post of Finance committee chairman for a number of years, said that changes in the method of reporting figures had been based on legal opinions, and that duplicate reports had never been made by former Treasurer Frank Sappington and Comptroller John Dooley.

"The law says Rich as treasurer must keep a set of books. We spent about $14,000 for a bookkeeping machine to simplify record keeping and cut down on personnel. I don't think we're getting out of the machine what we should—especially the records for comparison of expenditures and budget figures."

"We even ended up with more people to keep the double set of books," Rutledge added. Rich answered that he is required by state law to keep a separate set of books and that his office is using the bookkeeping machine. He added that the city should make note of the six-month financial report and the expenditures to date.

Rutledge asked if the comptroller is required by city ordinance to submit monthly financial reports. No one could answer before the dual-committee meeting with the two officials.

Girl Scout 'Festival of Giving' Dates are Set

The annual Girl Scout "Festival of Giving" to provide food, toys and Christmas decorations to needy families in the Quad-Cities will be held by Girl Scout Neighborhoods this year at five different locations. Items made or contributed by the 1700 girls in about 100 troops are turned over to local United Fund agencies for distribution at Christmas time.

In past years, two "Festivals of Giving" were held on the same date, but this year the festivals will be held Dec. 1, 8 and 9. On Dec. 1, the troops of Neighborhood One will meet at the Madison Memorial Recreation center with Mrs. Jackie Frizzell in charge, and the festival items will be given to Catholic Charities.

Also on Dec. 1, the girls of Neighborhood Four will meet at Namecki grade school with Mrs. Wanda MacDonough in charge. Their contributions will go to the Salvation Army. Festivals of Giving on Dec. 8 will be staged for Neighborhood Three at St. John United IP territory, including the Quad-Cities, as a public service. The booklets contain five articles which originally appeared in the Illinois Power Co. magazine, Hi-Lines, in observance of the Illinois Sesquicentennial Year.

Ill. Power Presents Books on State History

Sixty-page booklets, "Stories of Historic Illinois" have been presented by Illinois Power Co. to school and public libraries in IP territory, including the Quad-Cities, as a public service. The booklets contain five articles which originally appeared in the Illinois Power Co. magazine, Hi-Lines, in observance of the Illinois Sesquicentennial Year.

The articles are on prehistoric early French ETADIN... Illinois; the Indian and early French settlers in the Illinois River Valley; Kaskaskia, also an early French settlement and the first capital of Illinois; Vandalia, the second state capital, and Shawneetown, the banking capital of the West in the early days of colonization. The articles on Kaskaskia, Vandalia and Shawneetown have previously been reprinted for distribution by historical societies in these areas.

'Y' Basketball Proposed for Venice Pupils

Formation of an intramural basketball league for non-varsity students in the Venice school system, to be sponsored by the local YMCA, was discussed at a meeting of the Venice school board Monday evening.

Start of a cage league for Venice youths hinges on agreements reached between school administrators and officials of the custodial union, which will allow Saturday contests to be played in the Venice gymnasium.

Venice Supt. John O. Pier informed board members that the YMCA has offered to underwrite expenses of two supervisors for the basketball program, if the district provides the facilities.

In other action at Monday's meeting, a request was approved and a contract awarded for use of the Venice school gym by the Bethel AME Church, which will hold its ninth annual "brotherhood dinner" Sunday, Feb. 2.

Board members agreed to levy a $150 rental fee for combination lockers for high school lockers and will seek bids to construct closets for newly acquired band uniforms. Pier said present locker-closets at the school are crowded and will not accommodate the 59 new uniforms and tall "Busby-style" hats.

A letter from Madison County Supt. of Schools Wilbur R. L. Trimpe informed the district that a deficiency exists in special education funds allocated to the county. Assistant Supt. Robert N. Vickers said $8123 has been received by the Venice district so far, with $4800 still due.

Vickers reported overall student attendance in October of 94.53%, with monthly percentages of 94.20% for the Venice kindergarten; 94.80%, Venice elementary; and 94.19%, Venice high school.

Monthly bills approved for payment from the education fund amounted to $5208. Building fund bills totaled $2067, and transportation fund payments, $2864.

Venice-Lincoln Technical Center bills approved totaled $6740, with the full amount reimbursable from federal and state funds.

Bar Association to Present Judicial Robes

Members of the Tri-City Bar Association will make a traditional presentation of judicial robes to newly-elected Circuit Court Judge William Beatty in ceremonies this evening at the association's regular monthly dinner meeting in the Granite City Elks Club.

A past president of the Tri-City and Madison County Bar Associations, Judge Beatty will receive the robes from current association president, Roy L. Strawn. The gift is a traditional gesture made to a member of the local attorney's organization upon elevation to a judgeship.

About 40 members are expected to attend the 6:30 p.m. dinner from Granite City, Madison and Collinsville, an area recently admitted to the association, according to William F. Kinder, secretary.

SIU-SW Speech, Hearing Therapist Class Expanding

Sixty students at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern campus are training to become speech and hearing pathologists and therapists. This is a thousand per cent increase in a program initiated at the campus three years ago.

"While this figure is not as astronomical as it sounds," says Prof. Keith St. Onge, director of SIU-SW's Speech and Hearing Clinic, "nonetheless, it is encouraging. Once you get 100 majors you have a solid program, as we are well on our way. If the numbers exceed 100, it might be necessary to change the character of the training program and requirements for entrance."

"Students come from all around the area to enroll, even from St. Louis and St. Louis county. We expect to attract students from everywhere as the program expands, and we have University housing."

In 1967, Linda Knogl and Patricia Walters became the first graduates in speech pathology at the Southwestern campus. Since then there have been nine additional graduates.

St. Onge hopes to start a graduate program next fall to meet the rising national-level standard for speech pathology and audiology. Most of the students are beginning to require a master's degree or its equivalent, he said, "and it is only a matter of time before Illinois raises its requirements. This means that most students starting in 1970 must think of speech pathology and audiology as a five-year program, with a three-year concentration in speech pathology and audiology."

According to Illinois law, a major in speech and hearing must have 200 hours of clinical practice. The state also requires that the hours be divided between public school and clinical experience. "Since most public schools are not fully staffed for speech therapy, SIU-SW is expanding training as rapidly as it can," St. Onge said. "Our object is to place our students in the schools."

SIU-SW's Speech and Hearing Clinic got its start in East St. Louis in 1964 with Miss Ann Carey, lecturer in speech and theater, as its sole staff member. In 1965 the center moved to the new campus and now has a staff of four.

"Most of our students like the SIU-SW program because they meet real people with real problems," St. Onge said. "These problems range from those concerned with speech development at the age of a few months to those who have lost their speech because of a stroke, which can strike at any age. What we do in therapies varies from case to case. Problems concern the stutterer, the pal-derman; and Venice, a mayor and four aldermen. Madison now has five wards but is expected to act soon on redistricting into four wards. Pontoon Beach will elect only three members of the village board of trustees. Granite City, Madison and Venice also will elect city clerks and city treasurers."

The amended election law requiring the majority primary does not affect any other candidates in municipal elections in this area. Therefore, candidates for aldermen, city clerk and city treasurer will file petitions in accordance with filing dates set out by the secretary of state's office.

Filing Dates Vary. These vary in Granite City from those in Madison, Venice and Pontoon Beach. The April 1 election date for Granite City is set in election statutes for cities whose boundaries are co-extensive to the township. While that is true of Granite City, Madison and Venice are not contiguous municipalities, both located in Venice township, and therefore conduct elections under a different statute.

Filing dates for the Granite City April 1 election are fixed from Dec. 23 to Jan. 27 with a Feb. 1 withdrawal deadline. In Madison, Venice and Pontoon Beach, the filing period is set between Jan. 6 and Feb. 10, with a Feb. 15 withdrawal deadline.

Another new aspect of next year's municipal election will be the newly adopted requirement that city voters be registered. In past voters in municipal elections have been able to cast ballots, merely by having their name on a poll book. Under the revised system, city balloting hereafter will be conducted similarly to that in school elections.

Voters will be required to sign an affidavit attesting that they are duly qualified voters and are registered with the county clerk's office.

Dow Talks Resume. Contract talks also were held with U.S. mediators Tuesday and yesterday between union leaders of United Steelworkers of America Local 4894 and officials of the Madison plant of Dow Chemical Co. Local 4894 has about 700 members on strike at the Dow plant in what is now the longest of any of the current industrial strikes. The strike began Aug. 31 and went into its 32nd day today.

Yesterday's mediation discussions in the Dow strike broke down at 10 a.m. and continued until 3:30 p.m. Negotiators from both sides agreed to meet again at 10 a.m. tomorrow at the U. S. Mediation offices in St. Louis.

The dispute at Dow involves seniority rights and job security clauses. George Becker, representative of USWA subsidiary, said no discussion of the economie phase of a new contract has yet been held.

Approximately 60 machinists also are on strike at American Steel Foundries in a dispute over wages. The plant is operating, however, having come to an agreement with 700 steelworker employees Oct. 1.

Essay Winners Announced

500 Youngsters Given 'Good Citizenship' Citations

In recognition of their asset to the community as commendable junior citizens, more than 500 Quad-City youngsters were awarded "Good Citizenship Citations" last week by members of local police departments as part of the Granite City Optimist Club's "Youth Appreciation Week" program.

In conjunction with the week-long observance, the essays of two Granite City high school students were judged winning entries in an essay contest, also sponsored by the men's service organization.

Winning entries were submitted by Henry L. Henderson, 1621 Lindell blvd., a GCHS senior, whose essay was entitled "The Need to Observe and Respect the Law"; and Mark Freedman, 2543 Cleveland blvd., a sophomore at the local high school, whose paper was titled "A Crisis from Fear." Optimist President Fred Cunningham today announced that seven youthful Quad-City youngsters will receive portable recorders as gifts, with the same prize awarded to the winning essayists.

The seven winners were selected at random yesterday morning at the Press-Record office from the names of children who returned the stub from their "Good Citizenship Citation" to local police headquarters.

Cunningham and C. A. "Bud" MacMillan, Coordinated Youth Service director and chairman of the Citation project, supervised the selection.

Winning Madison youngsters are Harold Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Williams, 1225 Market street, a Dunbar grade-school pupil, for a citation issued by Patrolman Leon Bland; and Joyce Foster, daughter of Mr. Opal Foster, 2100 Hidebrand avenue, a Louis Baer student, honored by Juvenile Officer William Fanning.

Venice winners are Lisa Mehan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Mehan, 445 Lincoln avenue; and Romana Bradley, daughter of Mrs. Verla Bradley, 425 Weaver street, in citations issued by Venice Police Chief John J. Essington.

Pontoon Beach area—James Potter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton J. Potter, 221 Miracle avenue, on a citation issued by Patrolman Robert L. Carrell.

Granite City—Judith Line, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence D. Line, 3404 Redbud avenue, issued by Patrolman Roscoe Martin; and Karen Lickenbrock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph F. Licken-brock, 2416 Hodges avenue, a St. Elizabeth Hospital candy-striper, issued by Assistant Police Chief George C. Teller.

MacMillan said the winners may pick up their gifts Monday or later at Coordinating Youth Services offices, 1235 Niedringhaus avenue.

Approximately 300 citations were returned to police headquarters in Granite City; ten in Pontoon Beach; 70 in Venice; and 150 in Madison.

Serving as judges in the essay contest were Robert Burns, Mrs. Kay Headrick and Miss Helen Kuenster, Cunningham said.

Grand Jury Calls for Full Time State's Atty.

The Madison county grand jury recommended that the state's attorney devote full time to the duties of his office as it presented its report today at Edwardsville.

The jurors, who signed the report individually, said they considered the voluminous duties of the office and the new salaries set for the office. Included in the report was a statement that the recommendation was not requested by the current state's attorney or members of his staff.

Meanwhile, the grand jury returned 16 criminal indictments and one no-true bill. All of the indictments were suspended pending arraignment. Presiding during the report was Chief Circuit Judge Harold R. Clark and William V. Porcell, clerk of the circuit court.

Revenue Seen As Chief State Government Issue

Because revenue has become the leading state government problem in Illinois, new forms of taxation may be pursued in three ways during 1969, members of the Illinois Chamber of Commerce staff said in talks last night.

About 20 Quad-Cities heard Executive Vice-President Lester W. Brann Jr. and legislative specialists of the Illinois Chamber preview the next General Assembly session at a dinner in Belleville, one of a series of seven in the state.

The "legislative action forum" brought out that while constitutional convention delegates are being elected and put to work drafting a new state constitution, including the tax section, the state legislature also may act on its own to submit a new revenue section to voters.

This might ease the task of obtaining broad agreement on a new constitution, which probably would be voted on later than submission of a new revenue article in November 1970, the gathering was told. The tax section is regarded as the most difficult task, although other sections also need modernized, the panel said.

In addition to this possible two-pronged approach, it is possible that direct action may be taken by the Assembly to revamp present state taxing procedures, it was reported in reply to a question.

Authorities were quoted as saying that Illinois legislators have power to do anything not forbidden by the 1870 constitution, and the 98-year-old document does not mention an income tax, for example.

Although there is no agreement at this stage on a state income tax, raising monetary needs in such fields as highways, education and welfare make major increases in existing tax levels inevitable, it was related.

Group for Gifted to Elect First Officers

Formation of a local chapter of the National Association for Gifted Children will take place at 7:30 tonight at the Grigsky Junior high school library, where officers are to be elected and a charter application approved. The initial meeting of the new organization took place in October. It has been decided to meet on the third Thursday of each month at Grigsky school.

Probe Sought in 2 Fires at Same House

The state fire marshal's office has been asked by Madison firemen to ask in investigation of two apparent attempts by arson to burn a one-story frame house in Madison last night and early this morning, according to Madison Fire Chief E. G. Miller.

Madison firemen were called at 10:05 p.m. yesterday to 2016 Fifth street to extinguish a smoldering fire in the interior of the house. Miller said the fire was put out with minor damage.

A call to the same address was received at 2:05 a.m. today. Miller said the building was burning on the exterior when firemen answered the second alarm.

A gasoline can and gasoline-soaked rags were found at the scene, Miller said. The house is not occupied, he said.

Rebuilding Year Looms for MHS Basketball Champions

The Madison Trojans of 1968 will have a different look than in many past basketball seasons. They will be lacking the experience and size that often have made a name for them in recent years.

Last year, the Trojans captured their first place in the Midwestern Conference, a new league, winning the Breesse Matur Dei and Litchfield tournaments.

The Trojans have only two returning lettermen this fall—senior forward Jim Scott, 6', and senior center John Harper, 6'2".

Most of those on the team played on the junior varsity squad last season, and saw only limited varsity action. Presently there are 15 experienced players working out for the varsity squad—seven seniors and eight juniors.

10 Persons Hurt In 17 Accidents In Quad-City Area

Ten persons were injured in a total of 17 traffic accidents which occurred this week in the Quad-City area.

Four women in an auto driven by Mrs. Margaret H. Fifield, 5, of 2942 Madison avenue, were injured when it was struck by a car driven by Barbara M. Cottrell, 2131 Benton street, at 12:15 a.m. Tuesday at Pontoon and Nameoki roads where the Fifield auto was stopped for a traffic signal.

The Fifield auto rolled forward and was hit again from behind by the Cottrell car, the driver of which was charged with following too closely. Taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital were Mrs. Fifield, Mrs. Regina Hillmer, 45, of 2660 Cleveland blvd.; Mrs. Dorothy Mayberry, 54, of 2730 Grand avenue; and Mrs. Pauline West, 45, of 1202 Twenty-seventh street.

All were released after treatment. Mrs. Fifield suffered pains in the neck and back. Mrs. Hillmer complained of pains in the neck, head and left hip. Mrs. Mayberry had pains in the head, neck and back, with x-rays taken of the skull and spine; and Mrs. West complained of pains in the head, neck, right shoulder and right forearm, to return the next morning for x-rays.

Three-Auto Accident

Two women were injured when an auto driven by Mrs. Rosie B. Hill, 50, of 901 Bissell street, West Madison, left a stop sign on State street and was struck by a taxicab driven by Robert Campbell, St. Louis, headed east on 20th street, at 3:30 p.m. Monday. The Hill car then struck the auto of Charles A. Meyer, 2708 Harvey place, who was stopped in the southbound lane of State.

Mrs. Hill was admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital with pains to the head and left shoulder. X-rays were taken of the spine, shoulder, collarbone, skull and cervical vertebrae in her auto. Mrs. Margaret Vance, 71, of 109 Douglas street, Venice, was treated for pains in the hip and head and was released. Mrs. Hill was charged with a right-of-way violation with a stop sign present.

June M. Bernick, 23, of 2906 East 23rd street, complained of pains about her left auto after it was struck by another driven by Danny L. Jones, 2323 Palmer avenue, at 4:10 p.m. Monday at East 23rd street and Nameoki road.

Three Venice girls injured in an auto accident were treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital at 1:10 p.m. yesterday and were released following x-rays. They are Betty Herd, 16, of 540 Mercedia street, pains in

The squad has its third new coach in the last three years.

Page reports that seniors Dave Hutchinson 5'6", Howard Harper 5'9" and Alana Watts 5'10" have handled the ball well at guard positions and are being considered for the starting line-up.

"We are blessed with boys who have a lot of speed," Page says in trying to find a silver lining in the clouds that lie ahead. Hustle sometimes has enabled MHS quintets to overcome height disadvantages.

Bethalto Favored

"Right now I would have to rate Bethalto as the toughest team in the Midwestern Conference because they have almost a full team returning from last year, including a junior who should help their shooting from the outside a lot."

"To start with, we may be rated as second or third. But we are not completely out of the picture if our boys come around to playing tough ball fast enough." He is stressing dribbling, passing, breaking and pivoting.

In total, 27 students are attempting to earn positions on the varsity team.

The opening contest will be against Wood River at the Trojan gym at 8 p.m. Friday, Nov. 29.

Last year, the Trojans won two games from Wood River. First conference foe for Madison will be Duplo Dec. 10 at the local gym.

Bethalto will visit the Trojans on Jan. 17.

Dinner to Honor 2 Local Swimmers

Ann Bickhaus, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Bickhaus, 2028 Manley avenue, and Karen Reisinger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Reisinger, 2242 State street, will be honored at a banquet at 7 p.m. Friday at the Round Table restaurant, Collinsville.

Swimming for the East St. Louis YMCA team, a new swimmer broke the 100-yard butterfly stroke state swimming record in the 13-14 age group and Karen Reisinger, a new swimmer, broke the 100-yard breaststroke category for 9-10-year-olds during the past year.

They and 66 other young swimmers will be honored at the dinner by the Greater St. Louis Amateur Athletic Union. Guest speaker will be Bob Gombay of Belleville, a professional golfer who is the reigning Masters tournament champion.

Park Sports Fans Await Ken Gray, Dal Maxvill

Although it was learned this week that Larry Wilson, St. Louis football Cardinals defensive star, will be unable to attend the annual Granite City Park Sports Award Banquet at 6:15 next Monday at the Granite City high school cafeteria, participation by a number of athletic celebrities is assured.

The grid Cardinals still plan to be represented by two varsity players, one of whom will be Ken Gray, offensive right guard.

And the main speaker will be a Granite City native who ranked 20th in National League most valuable player balloting this year, Dal Maxvill, shortstop for the baseball Cardinals.

Young Baseball Veteran

Maxvill began his playing career for the Cardinals organization in 1960 at Winnipeg, Canada, where he spent two seasons.

In his two years with this farm club, he had a batting average of .257 for his first season and .238 his second year. His fielding average went up from .924 in the first season to .930.

In the second half of the 1961 season, Maxvill was transferred to the Charleston club, where he batted .229 and recorded a remarkable fielding average of .964.

From Charleston, Maxvill moved to Tulsa, Okla., for half a season before getting his first break in the major leagues late in the 1962 season.

Hit .348 at Tulsa

At Tulsa he recorded the best batting average of his career, leaving the club with a .348 hitting mark and a fielding average of .960.

His first year in the majors brought a batting average of .222 and a fielding percentage of .963.

He played baseball with the Cardinals for the entire season of 1963, although he had not made the starting lineup at that time. He hit .225 and again raised his fielding percentage to .971.

The year 1964 saw the Cardinals enter the World Series against the New York Yankees, and Maxvill was called up late in the season to take over second base for Julian Javier, who was out because of an injury.

He fielded well and parried two big hits as his team won the Series over the New York Yankees, four games to three.

He played second base in every game and ended the series by catching a pop fly.

In 1964, he had a fielding average of .978, making only one error for the season as a Cardinal.

Maxvill earned a regular position as shortstop part way through the 1965 season and has helped provide solid "up the middle" defense ever since. His team repeated as world champions in 1967, beating the Boston Red Sox in seven games, and again captured the National League pennant in 1968.

Hitter As Well As Fielder

Always a great fielder with a wide range, he has also proven that he can hit .250 or better, more than adequate for a defensive great and better than some of the traditional batting stars hit this season.

He has also played third base for the Cardinals when needed there, and his advice has aided Mike Shannon in adjusting to that position.

Maxvill has a degree in electrical engineering from Washington University of St. Louis, and is employed in the off-season by the Bussman Fuse Co.

Two years ago, he was transferred to the outstanding Khouzry League graduate.

Gray 'All-Pro' 4 Times

Gray, playing his 11th year with the grid Cardinals shares honors with Bobby Joe Conrad for having been on the team the longest.

A graduate of Howard Payne University, Gray is 6'2" and weighs 250 pounds.

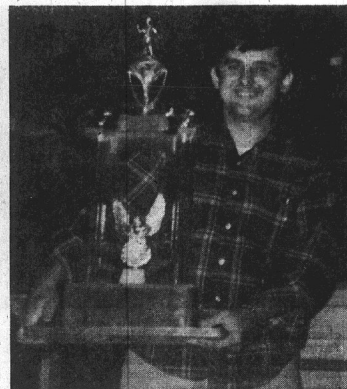

He is a rugged veteran, and is rated as one of the top guards in the National Football League. He has made four trips to the "pro bowl," in 1964, '65, '67 and '68, and is adept at both protecting the Cardinal passer and serving as the leading blocker on end sweeps.

Gray underwent knee surgery during the off-season last year, but he has not been bothered by the injury this season.

He is a member of the NAIA Hall of Fame and was originally drafted by the Green Bay Packers. He came to the Big Red as a free agent.

In his school days he was a football and track star.

He owns and operates a ranch in the Texas hill country. He is married and has three children and lives in Llanito, Tex.

FISHING TROPHY is displayed by Roger Basarich, 1733 Bremen avenue, who received the award for catching the largest carp at Sandy Lake during the summer months. The trophy is 37 inches high from the base to the fisherman figure on top. He landed a 31-pound carp in August.

Soccer Warriors Open With 13-0 Victory in Snow, Mud

The Granite City high school Fighting Warriors soccer team brewed a snow storm, mud and a water-drenched field here Monday afternoon to beat Glendale Waterloo 13-0 and open its 1968-69 season.

The Warriors looked sharp offensively, even with the treacherous ground, and even though controlling the ball proved difficult.

The local team displayed its talents early by scoring two goals in less than two minutes of the first half, taking advantage of the fact that goalie could not move fast on the cold and slippery ground.

Waterloo, like the Warriors of last year, is playing its first year of varsity soccer competition. It has found the going rough, losing previously by 15-0 and 14-0 scores before playing the Warriors.

Passing Sparkles

GCHS passed the ball better than it did last year, aided by the fact that all but three members of the team also played on last year's squad. The experience, and the familiarity of playing together, seemed to help noticeably.

The players helped each other, called out to one another when being charged by an opponent, and let it be known who was in the clear. When they got close to the goal, they moved the ball around until a player had a clear shot. There appeared to be no greediness on taking shots.

The captain of this year's squad is Jim Rollins, the team's first-string right fullback. He was elected to the post by his teammates.

Most of those on the starting team played last season, but not always in the same positions as now.

Offense Bolstered

Coach Tom Wyrostek said, "We changed our boys around so that we could play a better offensive game than last season."

Larry Knox led the Warrior scoring with three goals, Mike McGovern and Bobby Canada had two each and there was one apiece by Cecil Barnes, Bobby Galvin, Mike Haganian, Tony Kozior, Herb Milton and Robert Thurai.

Manufacturers Honor Public Officials at Annual Event

More than 80 public officials of the Quad-City area and representatives of area industrial firms attended the annual "Public Officials Dinner" given by the Manufacturers' Association of the Tri-Cities in the Marriott Athletic Club last night.

The dinner, given annually by the manufacturers' group to honor public officials and industrial firms, was the 15th annual program in which the Illinois Sesquicentennial and the state's 150 years of statehood was the theme.

A. P. Steinhauer, works manager of American Steel Foundries, as master of ceremonies, introduced attending public officials and representatives of the Quad-City area manufacturing community. Steinhauer noted that "In the 150 years which have elapsed since Illinois was first admitted as a state by an Act of Congress in 1818, we have made a good deal of progress through the cooperation of all citizens of the state, and today Illinois is not only the 'Land of Lincoln,' but is a tall state in every respect justifying the recently devised title of 'Mid-American Empire'."

Fourth in Nation

He pointed out that Illinois ranks as the fourth industrial state in the nation, leads all states in production of steel and is first in the nation in the quantity of steel used in manufacturing.

"Illinois ranks first in the nation with export of manufactured products of some $2 billion annually," Steinhauer said, adding that "Illinois also leads all states in manufacturing of non-electrical machinery, fabricated metals, food products, printing, radios, soap and appliances."

"We are more particularly aware here in the Tri-Cities that Illinois is a transportation center, served by more than 25 airlines, 83 railroads and 1500 trucking companies."

"More particularly in the Madison and St. Clair counties areas, now called Illinois Metro-East, we are proud that this serves as the base for a heavy industrial manufacturing area of Metropolitan St. Louis," Steinhauer continued.

"From the oil refineries, foundries, brass mills and others of the Alton-Wood River area through the steel mills, heavy products of iron, lead, aluminum, magnesium fabrications of the Tri-Cities area to the diversified industries of oil and chemical industries of East St. Louis and Cahokia, the hallmark of our economy is basic heavy industry," he said.

Speak on Program

Brief comments were made during the program by Paul Akin, president of Laclede Steel Co.; James Boertch, vice-president of the automotive division of A. O. Smith Corp.; Robert McBride, vice-president, operations of Granite City Steel Co.; State Rep. Leland J. Kennedy of Alton; Circuit Judge

Students Learn New Orleans Jazz Concert Better by 'Doing,' SIU-SW Prof Says

"Many students today are disappointed in college, and they ought to be. They should expect more individual attention, more relevance in their studies to the real world's problems, and a greater opportunity to work with types of projects that develop their individual interests as well as solve them," says Kenneth H. Myers, dean of the Business Division at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern campus.

The dean and the Business Division's faculty have launched a pilot program to help business majors recognize problems as well as solve them, and to work with each other in the process.

This swing from the traditional mode of education at SIU-SW is known as LIFT (Learning Through Integrated Faculty-Student).

In a letter, according to Myers is whether students are mature enough to be real participants in the educational process. He questions whether anyone really "learns" by being told. Instead, he believes students learn best by "doing," by being involved in investigating, analyzing, in developing alternative solutions, and in implementing action programs.

He believes the university student will be responsible, capable, and serious if given the opportunity to work and study in a participative, action-oriented environment.

Basic to this entire idea is that students learn more from other students than they do from faculty presentations. At SIU-SW students often miss opportunities to study and learn from classmates, because all leave the campus to return to their homes. LIFT provides a place of time during which students to study and work together, as well as to formally teach each other. Four courses are offered to the same group of 30 students each day in this pilot phase.

A team of teachers works with the group. Robert Hoeke, faculty team leader, and three faculty members are currently involved in LIFT. Five additional faculty will participate in the winter and spring quarters.

Students are given the responsibility of presenting materials after consulting with faculty members. Other "small group" techniques are used in preparing group papers, projects and experiments.

The total number of students involved will be increased to 40 from the winter quarter. By spring quarter this number will probably be doubled and it may be expanded to all day time students in business.

"What we are trying to accomplish is a 'simulated work environment' where students must interact with others in problem solving, action oriented situations," says Myers.

The goal is to prepare students to be managers in business by developing both the intellectual and scientific skills necessary for the job.

With the block of time available every day visiting with students from business and industry are easy to schedule, the dean pointed out. Field trips or independent field investigations are also easier to schedule.

"More interaction between the business world and the university is our goal," said the dean.

Faculty members evaluate the student, not only on the academic performance, but also on the performance within each student group. Rotating responsibilities for instruction within the student group make the setup a fair one.

Last year there were 700 students enrolled in business classes at the SIU-SW campus. This year that number has increased to 900.

Highway Funds Still Frozen in Madison-St. Clair

A Federal Highway Administration order releasing funds for Illinois highway projects after Dec. 1 exempts Madison St. Clair counties where federal highway allocations will remain frozen, it was learned today.

The order releasing a total of $187 millions to be released for highway projects in all other Illinois counties through next June 30 was issued at Washington yesterday. Released funds will cover the interstate highway program for which the federal government puts up $9 for every $1 spent by the state, and primary and secondary road programs, under which the state and federal government put up an equal amount.

C. S. Monnier, Illinois representative of the U.S. Bureau of Public Roads, at Springfield, told the Press-Record that the order does not include Madison and St. Clair counties where the federal-state road building program has been held up because of government claims of racial discrimination and the unusually high construction costs.

The Bureau of Public Roads has been meeting with contractors to obtain assurances that a greater number of minority workers will be employed on road jobs. Agents also have been checking into highway construction costs which they say are higher in this area than in other parts of the state.

"The released funds for the rest of the state were held up until September because of cutbacks in the federal budget. About $4.9 millions will be released for Illinois highway projects for the month of December. About $28.8 million will be released in January, a like amount in February and the remainder during the months between February and June 30."

Former Venice Alderman to Run For Mayor Office

John Mangiaracino, 53, of 100 Third street, a former Venice alderman, this week announced that he will be a candidate for mayor of Venice in 1969.

A native and lifelong resident of Venice, Mangiaracino served a four-year term on the city council as a Second Ward alderman beginning in 1964. He also served on the Democratic committee of Venice Precinct One during the 1968.

During the Venice governmental and political policies in recent years, Mangiaracino said he opposes what he regards as an over-concentration of power in the mayor's office.

He charged that there is a "clash" between Venice municipal, school, park, library, bridge, banking and civic activities. He said such a trend must be reversed if he is elected as mayor.

Mayor John E. Lee, a dentist and president of the Madison bank, previously announced that he will be a candidate for reelection.

The Mangiaracino is employed as a car inspector by the Terminal Railroad Association and is chairman of Bridge Lodge 677 of the Brotherhood of Railway Carmen of America, an affiliation of the AFL-CIO.

He attended St. Mark's parochial school and the Venice public school and has been active in several organizations. He served as president of the Venice Social Club for two years.

He is the brother of Second Ward Alderman George Mangiaracino.

GIRLS AUXILIARY TO HOST AMBASSADORS

The Girls Auxiliary of Calvary Baptist Church met there Tuesday evening with the leaders, Mrs. Lois Bowers and Mrs. Martha Doty, to make final arrangements for a book study program Nov. 26 at 8:30 p.m.

The "fiesta" will have an international theme "Look South," with costumes and dishes representing various foreign countries as the girls pass the GA steps. Guests will be the immediate Royal Ambassadors. Age level for both groups is 14-16.

Mrs. Bowers offered opening prayer and a calendar of prayer was read by Martha Cornett. Diane Borth led the members in prayer. Miniature ornaments were placed on a Christmas tree which will be presented to a shut-in at the end of this month.

The girls decided to use a pinata for part of the decorations. Cindy Bradley, Virginia Wolf, Debbie Marks, Martha Cornett and Diane Borth will meet at the church after school next Tuesday to decorate for the festivities.

Mrs. Doty gave closing prayer. Others present were Brenda Bivens, Debbie Borth, Colleen Dagon, Linda Grady and Pam Stamps.

The girls discussed the festival, which will hold Dec. 1 at Nameoki school from 2 to 3 p.m. as a Neighborhood Hour event. Mrs. Kating is the general chairman.

The leaders reminded the scouts to bring two canned goods items for festival baskets next week. ROTARY PARTICIPATION was the topic discussed by Rotary District Governor Hobart Blair of Virdin, Ill. (center), who spoke Tuesday at Granite City Rotary Club luncheon. With the district official are George T. Wilkins, past District 646 governor (left), and Rotary President Warren Decatur.

'Participation' is Stressed By Rotary District Gov.

Thurs., Nov. 21, 1968 Page 11

Granite City Rotarians were honored Tuesday with the annual visit by Hobart Blair of Virdin, Ill., governor of District 646 Rotary International, who addressed the Granite City Rotary Club at its regular luncheon meeting in the YMCA.

Gov. Blair explained that he has visited 47 Rotary clubs, still having one more to go to complete the circuit. Noting that he was impressed by the enthusiasm of members for his annual visit, the district official said that calling on local clubs was equally a "must" for him as for members.

"It is doubtful," he said, "if Rotarians realize the impact or image they are leaving in this community. Over the years, the Granite City Rotary has given to the people of the city thousands of dollars and many, many hours of unselfish service. While it is hard for us to evaluate the work of the Granite City Rotary, the young people who follow us will," he commented.

The theme chosen by Kiyoaki Togasaki, Rotary International president, for the current year is "Participation," the district official said. "To some, this may mean being leaders of a club; to others, it may mean committee, fellowship or just a meal."

"For Rotarians the theme should mean—participation in your club—serving on committees, attending meetings regularly and recruiting new members; participation through your club in sponsoring the Rotary Ideal of 'Service Above Self' and applying the Rotary four-way test," the governor said.

"Participation in building your community through club projects, working on community programs; participation through international contacts and understanding are equally as important he added."

Gov. Blair then challenged club members to a three-point participation program of District 646—to increase membership to an all-time high; to have a large representation of members, especially new members, at the district conference, March 28-29 in Springfield, and to have a representative at the International Convention in Hawaii in May.

If every club in District 646 achieved these goals, he said, the district will accomplish its goal. The Rotary official was introduced by Warren Decatur, local Rotary president.

Knicks for Rotary "Chili Day," Tuesday, Dec. 3, at the YMCA, were distributed to those present. The affair will be open to the public with tickets at $1 per person, available at the door the day of the project.

Marvin Van Metre, chairman, announced that serving will take place between 11 a.m. and 1 p.m. and from 5 to 7 p.m. Rotarians will prepare the chili and wait on tables, he said.

Proceeds are to be used to further youth activities. The meat course at Tuesday's luncheon was venison, provided by Don Adams. Decatur announced that a planning session for all committee chairmen is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. today in the Illinois Power conference room.

William Mehl, program committee chairman, said the district will be held at the Lyndon B. Johnson Library and Frank Krause will speak on the proposed school bond issue at the club's next meeting, Tuesday.

Chicago Bank Bids Low On SIU-SW Apartment Bonds

Southern Illinois University trustees sold $14.3 million in revenue bonds yesterday to finance two construction projects at its Southwestern and Carbondale campuses.

The bond proceeds will cover construction of 248 two and three bedroom apartments for students and staff at the Southwestern campus and finance additions and expansion at the University Center in Carbondale.

The SIU board of trustees, meeting at SIU-SW yesterday morning, sold the bonds to the Northern Trust Co. of Chicago on its low bid of 5.5569% interest. The issue will be retired from income produced by the two facilities.

Following the bond sale the board awarded contracts totaling $8,862,000 for the University Center job at Carbondale where three upper floors of unfinished space will be completed and an addition will be built to include dining space, a 300-seat auditorium and other facilities.

Contracts awarded earlier had been awarded previously for the apartment work at the Southwestern campus. Work has been under way on the SW campus job, financed by SIU pending the bond sale.

The difference between the contract amounts and the bond issue total represents additional expenses for furniture, movable equipment, contingencies and architectural, engineering, administrative and legal fees.

The board also awarded a contract of $307,000 to Rite Electric Co. of Granite City for extending campus utilities to the new Southwestern campus apartment project.

It also granted an easement to Illinois Power Co. for extending gas lines to the campus along Poag and Bluff roads. Increases in tuition effective September 1969 also were approved by the trustees.

For full-time students the increase will be $25 per quarter for Illinois residents, students and $34 per quarter for non-residents. Current tuition rates are $42 plus $46.50 in student activity and other fees for residents, and $172 plus fees for non-residents.

Tuition Fees Listed
Other than full-time residents will pay $22 for five quarter hours or less per quarter, an $8 increase; $45 for six to 10 quarter hours up from $28. Non-residents will pay $69 for five quarter hours or less, up from $30, and $137 for six to ten quarter hours, up from $115.

The board said the increases are a step toward bringing tuition income to the point where it will pay 20% of educational costs by 1973, as recommended by the Higher Board of Education.

Professors of chemistry and philosophy headed a list of appointments to the SIU faculty at Carbondale.

Richard T. Arnold, now a vice-president of Mead Johnson and Co. at Evansville, Ind., will join the faculty Jan. 2 as professor and chairman of the department of chemistry at Carbondale. He is a graduate of SIU.

Blaze Causes $6000 Damage to Roller Rink

A blaze in the furnace room at Skopkotte Roller Rink, 1823 Cleveland blvd., early Wednesday morning caused about $6000 damage to the building and contents and will close the rink for about two weeks.

George Skopkotte, proprietor, said he is endeavoring to determine the extent of damage to the skating floor—caused by water and smoke. The blaze was confined to the furnace room where flames did reach the rafters.

Firemen were called out at 1:05 a.m. and were on the scene for nearly two hours. The loss estimate included $5000 to the building and $500 to contents. The furnace uses gas fuel, Skopkotte said.

Truck-Auto Accident

The right rear of a pickup truck driven by James Mitchell, Belleville, was damaged in an accident involving an auto driven by John Patrick, 2109 Dawn place, at 2:15 p.m. Tuesday at 2250 Madison avenue.

Traffic Signal Charge

Theodore R. Antoff, 2440 St. Clair avenue, was charged with a traffic signal violation at East 23rd street and Nameoki road at 7 a.m. Wednesday.

Frohardt School Toured by 1000

Lee Reid, principal of Frohardt school, has announced that over 600 adults and several hundred children attended an open house Tuesday night at the school. Each class had worked on room decorations, and work was displayed for parents to observe.

Refreshments were served by the PTA executive board. The next meeting will be held Dec. 17 at 7:30 p.m. when a Christmas program will be presented by the sixth grades under the direction of the music teacher, Miss Sarah Bucher.

The DAV Auxiliary held a social meeting last night at the hall with Commander Ruth Niles in charge.

Letters of acknowledgement were received from two servicemen, Lance Cpl. Albert Baker and Lance Cpl. Richard Chances in Vietnam, expressing their thanks for Christmas boxes sent by the group.

Games provided entertainment, and prizes were won by Mrs. Ruth Hale, Mrs. Lillian Hefferty, Mrs. Jessie Grives, Mrs. Pearl Reeves, Mrs. Helen Miller, Mrs. Rena Craycraft, Mrs. Dorothy Best, Mrs. Irene Hoelter and Mrs. Bertha Kichler. Mrs. Grivas, Mrs. Alice Knipping and Mrs. Kichler were guests for the evening.

The hostess was Mrs. Louise

B&PW Club Reviews History On 47th Anniversary

The 47th year of the Business & Professional Women's Club here was celebrated last night at the Rose Bowl with 80 members present for the observance to honor Mrs. Pearl Kirkpatrick Ryckman, a charter member who was selected "Woman of the Month" for November.

Letters of congratulations were received from U. S. Senators Percy and Dirksen and Gov. Samuel Shapiro, as well as the National B&PW President, Hope Roberts.

Past presidents of the local club who were present and were given special recognition were Dorothy Rant (1930), Mrs. Ryckman (1931-32 and 1945), Mary Mortenson (1939), Winifred Costello (1949), E. L. Vira (1950-51), Ruth Huxel (1957-58), Dolores Allen (1959-60), Verna Lengyel (1961-62), Dorothy Davis (1964) and Helene Bischoff (1965).

Entertainment was provided by Phyllis Brasetti, second grade teacher at Nemecki school, who read poetry, accompanied on the piano by Margaret Rehagen, a teacher at Madison junior high school.

There also was a chalk drawing by Jo Ann Terrell, and a singing-along closed the dinner meeting. Guests were present from the Collinsville club, Kathryn Burton and Nina Schneig; the Edwardsville club, Evelyn Pike, and the Bethalto club, Ruby Jackson.

A history of the organization was reviewed, pointing out how the membership grew from 23 members to 106 when the rolls were closed because of a lack of accommodations for a meeting place.

The club first met in the dining room at Granite City Steel Co. and later in the rathskeller of the Elks Club. The first president was Dorothy Needles Buenger, who was secretary to Hayward Niedringhaus, at that time president of Granite City Steel Co.

The club through the years participated in municipal election campaigns and bought benches and installed a drinking fountain on the grounds where the city hall now stands. It cost the club $300 a year to maintain the park.

Members also instigated the change in designation of streets from letters to names and raised funds to buy street signs. During the Great Depression, the members maintained an employment agency to find jobs for many individuals, and in 1931 also assisted in obtaining mail service for the Tri-City Park area.

The club through a public display was instrumental in getting bookkeeping machines and other office equipment installed throughout the city businesses, and a tree now standing on the front lawn at the city hall, was planted by the club. In 1933, the club held a contest for selection of an outstanding woman for Granite City, sponsored an essay contest and earlier aided in securing an appointment for a postmistress for Granite City.

the St. Elizabeth Hospital Auxiliary. Mrs. Ryckman served as the first president of the Hospital Auxiliary.

During the world war II, members worked in the USO and Red Cross offices. Funds were raised by the club during the city's 50th anniversary observance in 1936 and the money used to furnish a room at the hospital.

Recently, several nurses were helped at the hospital, and the club held a contest for selection of an outstanding woman for Granite City, sponsored an essay contest and earlier aided in securing an appointment for a postmistress for Granite City.

Junior Service

December Plans

A pot luck dinner was held at a Granite City Junior Service club meeting Monday night at the civil defense building. A Thanksgiving theme was used, with turkey, dressing and all the trimmings served.

Following the dinner, four probation guests departed and Mrs. Wilma Eddington conducted a business meeting.

The Venice Junior Service club has invited the local group to a Christmas dance Dec. 7 at the Venice American Legion hall.

Mrs. Charlene Polman reported that she has taken birthday presents to a girl the club sponsors at a shelter home in Alton. Mrs. Jean Vrenick baked a birthday cake for the occasion.

A Maryville pupil has been provided with special visual equipment and a pupil from Wilson school has received an eye examination. It was reported that Mrs. Rena James, chairman of a bake sale, reported it was successful. Mrs. Polman discussed a progressive dinner. It was noted that Mrs. Della Pauly, club sponsor, was in a recent automobile accident and is expected home in a few days.

Below National Average, Chief Says

Major Crimes Becomes GC Council Issue

Increased major crimes in Granite City during October, compared to October 1967, is causing concern and complaints, Alderman Clyde Boyd told council members Monday night, and he asked "what is being done to rectify the higher crime rate?"

Police Chief Ronald Veizer was called upon to answer the question, and the chief replied that while he was at a loss to explain in detail the increase, it was the same across the nation and the amount of increase in Granite City was less than in other cities of comparable size.

As Boyd continued to stress the concern of individuals and merchants, particularly those in the 1900 block of State street, Mayor Partney interrupted to state that he believed police were doing a fine job, and that he had heard the crime rate reports were to become a major issue in the forthcoming city election campaign.

Boyd, who has announced his candidacy for mayor next year, said he was not making it a campaign issue, but that he had been hearing complaints since the recent bank robbery and also he had been receiving complaints in his neighborhood over daylight burglaries and bicycle thefts.

5% Cleared by Arrests

He noted that the October report showed increases in larceny cases, robberies and auto thefts over October a year ago and that only about 5% of the cases had been cleared by arrest. "I want to make sure the chief is aware of the public concern," Boyd said.

Chief Veizer pointed out the October report also showed a decline of burglaries, and he added that under the national system of reporting crimes, all thefts ranging from a 10-cent shoplifting theft to a major theft, and including bicycles, are in the larceny category.

"Some of those were not included in the reports of a year ago," he added.

As Boyd pressed for a solution to the increases, Chief Veizer replied that more police-men would help.

Alderman Fry told Boyd that the chief had requested three more patrolmen when he submitted his departmental budget request earlier this year, and that the council turned the request down. He added that the officers had done a "terrific job" working extra hours and on their own time to catch a peeping tom last week. "That was a major arrest," he commented.

Also answering Boyd was Alderman Whitmer, who has been Police committee chairman for a number of years. "Even if you added 30 men to the department, there would be crimes. The crime rate is going up all over, and in Granite City we're having a number of small thefts, like bicycles. Major crimes are not a serious problem in Granite City."

Cooperation Stressed

"What the police department needs," Whitmer continued, "is cooperation from the people. They shouldn't leave their homes unlocked or leave keys in their automobiles. Maybe what we need more than anything else is to educate the people."

The mayor added that two police officers could be put on the street if the deskmen were replaced with women switchboard operators during daylight hours. "The city hall switchboard is handling only eight lines now, and it could be relocated in the police department," Partney said.

Chief Veizer invited Boyd to the police department to review a six-month major crime report on file in his office.

He noted that while the national average showed a 23% increase in major crimes for the first six months this year compared to 1967, the increase in Granite City was 5%. The comparison was based on cities of 25,000-50,000 population.

The six-month report (January through June) showed 509 major crimes in Granite City this year, compared to 465 in 1967. There were no murders either year, and forcible rapes dropped 75% from four to one. Robberies also dropped from 16 to 11 and burglaries went down from 202 to 197.

Increases were shown in larceny cases, 150 compared to 116, up 28%, and in cases of aggravated assault, from 7 to 15, up 114%, but there was a drop in auto thefts, 155 in the first six months of this year compared to 140 in the same period last year—a decline of 4%.

Chief Veizer pointed out that declines were shown in four major crime categories in Granite City while nationwide there were increases of 12% to 30% in all categories.

Commends Legislators For Air Control Probe

Efforts to control air pollution in Granite City have been hampered extensively by the program of the Illinois State Air Pollution Control Board which leans toward a gradual process of pollution control rather than immediate stringent requirements. Henry Bieniecke, chairman of the Granite City Board, has informed a Joint Air Pollution Study Committee of the Illinois Legislature.

In a letter forwarded to the committee this week, Bieniecke commended the commission "for having cut through the negative barrage thrown up by biased professionals and for having come out strongly for the health and welfare of the ordinary citizen of Illinois who must breathe Illinois air now—not when technology has all the answers to all of the problems."

Bieniecke told the committee that while "state statutes clearly spell out that the state's intent is to encourage local control of air pollution, the state air pollution control staff allied itself with industrial efforts to successfully repeal a stringent Granite City Air Pollution Ordinance with air quality standards comparable to those now proposed by your (joint legislative) committee."

He said he has been not only disappointed by efforts of the state, but "I have been alarmed at how our local effort in Granite City has been interpreted in Springfield as the product of sinister plots in Washington or Jefferson City, Mo."

Venice 1967-68 Operating Costs Less Than Budget

The city of Venice spent a total of $578,092 for operation during its 1967-68 fiscal year, but ended the fiscal period with a cash balance of $71,540, according to the annual audit filed with Comptroller Carl Byrnes. The audit report has been approved by city council members.

Total revenue during the year amounted to $623,186, including $381,421 in property taxes and $200,000 from loans of $100,000 each from the working cash fund and the McKinley Bridge Revenue fund, the audit shows.

Other income included $9910 in collection of city license fees and miscellaneous revenue of $31,855.

Disbursements accounted for $343,691 in general fund operations, costs, payment of $115,000 to the working cash fund, $45,000 repayment to the McKinley Bridge Revenue fund and other expenditures of $73,791.

These latter costs included an additional $9346 to the working cash fund, $19,093 distribution to the library fund, $10,892 to the Illinois Municipal Retirement Fund, and $34,689 to the Police Pension Fund.

Cost Below Budget
The $343,691 in general fund expenditures totaled $32,121 less than appropriations which, at the beginning of the fiscal year on May 1, 1967, were listed at $359,813. Largest appropriation balance was in the street department where the appropriation for salaries was $32,140, with only $29,871 in actual expenditures. Supplies for the street department amounted to $14,345, or $204 less than the $16,450 appropriated.

Salary costs for garbage collection totaled $32,565, or $3002 less than the $35,568 appropriation, but supplies were $13,584 or $694 more than the appropriation of $4000. This resulted from purchase of a new garbage truck.

The police department also ended the year with salary costs less than the appropriation, but supply costs in excess of the budget figure. Police salaries were $100,243 against a $106,620 appropriation, while supply costs for the department amounted to $16,245, or $2795 more than the appropriation of $13,450.

The supply fund for the first department showed a $31,833 appropriation balance, but this resulted from later delivery than was expected of a new 750-gallon rumpier engine for which the $31,000 payment will be reflected in expenditures of the current fiscal year. Fire department salaries for the 1967-68 year were budgeted at $28,770, but amounted to $30,333, or $1783 in excess of the appropriation.

Tax Income Rises
Expenditures of $30,950 for salaries of city officials was $1650 less than the appropriated $32,600, while supply costs for city departments totaled $778 or only $55 less than the budget figure of $7815.

The property tax income of the general fund showed an increase of more than $100,000 for the 1967-68 year, due primarily to an increase in the general fund tax rate permitted by a special referendum two years ago.

During the 1966-67 fiscal, Venice received $292,029 in corporate taxes, but for the last fiscal year the tax income was $301,530 on the basis of new tax rates.

The McKinley bridge revenue fund had total receipts of $157,250 during the year, and total expenditures of $203,630 which were $46,380 in excess of

Crosswalk Signal Light Sought for Johnson Road

Permission will be sought from the state highway department for a pedestrian crosswalk light on Johnson road at Wabash avenue for youngsters attending the nearby Frohardt elementary school.

The request for the light was made by Alderman Davies during Monday night's Granite City council session. He said parents and the school staff are stressing the need for the electric light signal to protect the youngsters.

During the meeting, the council adopted an ordinance to place stop signs on Grand avenue at 29th street, making the intersection a four-way stop.

Requests were submitted for several restricted parking areas and an ordinance is to be prepared.

Alderman Green is requesting two-hour parking limitation on the north and south sides of West 23rd street from Illinois avenue to the alley between Illinois and Dewey avenues and on the north side of West 23rd street from Illinois avenue to the alley between Illinois and Missouri avenues.

A request was made by Alderman Pfc. Jones to have foot parking zone in front of a grocery at 2321-23 Washington avenue.

Concrete posts are to be installed by the street department to prevent autos from going into a yard at the "S" curve where Victory drive meets Terminal avenue. Alderman Fry said speeding vehicles are "cutting through the yard" and endangering children.

Alderman Davies said he had been advised by the Postmaster Theodore Overbeck that the Post Office Department is ordering removal of mail boxes in areas where there are no curbs.

Davies said autos have been

Auto Hits Utility Pole

An auto driven by Bailey D. Harrison, 2637 West 22nd street, involved in an accident with a hit-and-run driver, skidded over a curb and struck a utility pole Monday at East 20th and Omaha streets, he reported Tuesday.

The fund started the fiscal period with a $37,330 balance, however, and thus had a $10,850 cash balance at the end of the year last April 30.

Disbursements out of the bridge fund included purchase of a $100,000 certificate of deposit and a $100,000 loan to the general fund. In addition, the fund has $450,000 invested in certificates of deposit.

Youth Gets Six Months

On State Prison Farm
Gary Sidwell, 18, of Granite City, pleaded guilty to a charge of criminal trespass to a motor vehicle and was sentenced to six months on the state prison farm at Vandalia Monday afternoon by Magistrate William Johnson.

Pleading not guilty to the same charge was Donald Carney, 27, of 2015 1/2 Grand avenue, who was arrested with Sidwell. He was sent to the Madison county jail in lieu of $150 cash bail. Both were arrested at the Clark service station, 20th street and Madison avenue, at 11:55 p.m. Sunday after the left wing of the 1966 auto of James E. Baskette, 2014 Grand avenue, was broken.

Garden Chrysanthemums

Garden chrysanthemums will soon be king of neighborhood flower gardens with their profusion of bloom and quality of flowers.

This handsome perennial is a sure success when you select a location with lots of sunshine and good drainage. Shade and drought will spoil its summer-time growth and fall flowers while wet locations drown the clump during winter and early spring.

If you appreciate the blaze of fall color chrysanthemums can give you, now is a good time to go collecting. Select your additions by season of blooms as well as color. Neighborhood gardeners may have that needed addition, or nearby garden stores or nurseries. Lots of gardeners make a special trip to mums gardens where specialized nurserymen grow dozens of varieties and colors. Some varieties bloom in mid October while others bloom in late November. As you make deals with neighbors or look over nursery gardens you can be sure of the season of bloom and quality of flowers.

Ported fall mums are specially grown by florists and treated to bloom early. Winter survival and quality of bloom will be equal to neighborhood varieties but next year's flowers will arrive at a different date. Nurserymen and florists will sell these fall mums with confidence and tell you when their potted mums will bloom when they grow in your garden.

For more details on growing this king of garden flowers, call the Cooperative Extension Service Office, Edwardsville (Belleville) for a free copy of Circular 883, "Chrysanthemums for the Home Garden."

Peonies With a Problem

Deep planting may be harmless for garden bulbs, but is a disaster to peonies.

If your peony plants are a disappointment, then a deep planting may be smoothing the crown and preventing flowering. The gardeners rule of planting peonies one inch deep is a time-proven rule. Accidental planting deeper than two inches usually results in smothering and very few flowers. Shading and drought also prevent flowering as well as recent transplanting.

If you have some plants which aren't flowering, check the depth of the crown. Carefully dig down until you uncover dormant buds. After uncovering several, measure the average depth. If you discover your peonies are too deep, plan on immediate replanting.

Careful digging is important to avoid breaking off the large roots. Plan on creating a slight mound as you replant with the dormant buds about an inch deep. Shallow planting is not harmful, and the slight mound prevents drowning in wet seasons.

A new U.S.D.A. pamphlet on Growing Peonies (H. & G. Bulletin 126) discusses details of growing peonies in the home garden. Call your Cooperative Extension Service office in Edwardsville (Belleville) for a free copy.

Tree Leaves as Lawn Mulches

Your rotary lawn mower can help you take the easy way out of raking leaves.

Falling leaves are easily ground to fine particles and left to become part of the organic matter on top of the soil. When lawns are regularly fertilized, the fertilizer helps soil organisms and earth worms to quickly reduce the pulverized leaves to humus.

Regular cutting (grinding) is very important. Do not let the leaves completely cover the grass and become several inches thick. The shading harms the grass while you wait for the last leaf to fall. Wet leaves do not grind well and often are missed by the mower. Many of these wet leaves will kill the grass beneath.

Composting Leaves And Garden Trash

A backyard compost pile will solve your leaf and trash problem and supply you with a leaf mold.

Garden compost piles are layers of leaves and garden trash, soil, lime and fertilizer. When this combination is occasionally watered the pile soon becomes well rotted leaf mold ready for top dressing flowers, conditioning your soil and transplanting soil. Soil microbes and earth worms soon combine the plant humus and fertilizer to produce rich humus for garden use.

Composite pits are often shallow pits in the ground but some make a silo-like container with fence posts and woven wire. Leaves, grass clippings and garden trash are covered with soil and fertilizer. An equal mixture of 12-12-12 and lime is used to speed up the rotting and become organic fertilizer. Add one pound of fertilizer and lime mix for each ten pounds of trash. Use enough soil to cover each layer of leaves and trash. Occasionally water the pile to maintain a proper moisture level.

Wintering Treatment For Moles

Plenty of moles and lawn spots in your bluegrass lawn are usually sure signs of grub.

Winter is a convenient time to apply chlordane to your lawn for next summer's control. In spite of the argument about moles and grubs going deep in the ground to escape the cold, this timely application will provide good control. Wintertime rains will gradually carry the insecticide down to the roots where it will be ready for next year's migration from deep in the soil. Summer-time applications of this same insecticide often seem to have a delayed effect because rains are necessary to carry the chemical to the root zone.

Granular mixtures of the insecticides are an ideal method of wintertime application. Most garden stores handle this special product without the weed killer and fertilizer. The directions on the bag will be based on the number of square feet of lawn.

In spite of some recommendations, it is not necessary to apply a soil insecticide more than once every five years. Extra applications are a waste of money and seem to produce extra problems. The extra chemical discourages earth worms and seems to promote buildup of thatch. Worms seem to be the key to thatch control when they airily the soil and use the clippings and leaves for food.

Ground Covers Can Be Fertilized

Wintertime fertilizing is convenient and effective for ground cover plantings of ivy, ajuga, vinca and pachysandra.

Slow acting fertilizers are designed for situations where dense foliage and creeping stems can be easily injured. Milorganite is just one of these organic fertilizers well suited for broadcasting over your ground cover.

Products like this can be scattered over the ground cover without danger of burning the leaves or injuring the rhizomes. A single application of 1 1/2 pounds per 100 sq. ft. should be adequate for the season. Wintertime rains will quickly wash these fine ground products off the foliage.

The advantage of wintertime application is the very slow breakdown of the fertilizer. Organic fertilizers require warm and warm weather to break down and release the plant food. In your ground cover this wintertime application will main until spring when warmer weather starts to promote new plant growth.

Another bonus will be the extra leaf mold and humus produced by the fertilizer and earth worms from this wintertime collection of fallen leaves and frosted plants.

Wild Onions

One method of control of wild onions is to pull the clumps and burn them.

Soft ground is the key to success if you try to destroy this pesky onion by pulling. Most large clumps can be easily pulled when the ground

State Capitol NEWS

Watch Over Uninsured

Two code department directors and the secretary of state have joined in an effort to prevent uninsured motorists who have been involved in accidents from being victimized in the purchase of insurance.

Directors John F. Bolton of the Department of Insurance and Norbert J. Johnson of the Department of Public Works and Buildings and Secretary of State Paul Powell announced that all motorists certified by the Division of Highways to the Secretary of State's Office for possible suspension of their licenses will receive a warning prepared by the Department of Insurance to purchase insurance only from a licensed insurance agent or broker of their choice.

In some cases, insurance operators have obtained the names of persons facing possible suspension of their licenses and misled them concerning the insurance needs. This has resulted in the purchase of unnecessary insurance in some instances and charging exorbitant rates in others, the three men said.

Industrial Development Up

Gov. Samuel H. Shapiro is announcing that industrial development in Illinois will set new records this year when already there is a record 4,887,100 persons at work in Illinois.

He said that since 1961, 3461 new and expanded plants were announced in Illinois and that they created a total 145,156 new jobs. More than 30,150 unskilled persons have been trained for productive jobs and more than 30,000 young people in junior colleges are enrolled in occupation-oriented training programs.

Illinois' per capita income last year was $5750—$108 higher than in 1966, and the Governor said "We expect this to go beyond $5800 this year." Illinois ranks sixth in the nation in this category.

Sesqui Rose

The first bloom of a new hybrid rose is expected to bloom in Decatur next spring. The rose, "Illinois," was especially developed in commemoration of the state's Sesquicentennial through efforts of an 81-year-old Decatur rose fancier.

William N. Andrews suggested the bloom. General Bio-nomics created the hybrid tea rose and Andrews planted roots at his home this summer.

Others will be placed in Springfield at the old and peak Capitol, the State Fairgrounds and the Washington Park rose garden. Andrews said the roots should be planted during the spring. They should be available from commercial nurseries by then.

is soft, but small clumps will need help. A garden trowel or fork will loosen the soil enough to release the cluster of onions. When you burn the clumps you can be sure of complete destruction.

Life in Mid-America Topic of Book Series

The Southern Illinois University Press will hold a reception today from 4 to 6 p.m. in the International Room of the University Center at SIU-SW for John Francis McDermott, SIU research professor of humanities. The public is invited.

Prof. McDermott is general editor of a series of books on "Travels on the Western Waters," the first two titles of which will be off the press Dec. 2. He has written a foreword for each and edited the first volume, "Before Mark Twain: A Sampler of Old, Old Times on the Mississippi." George R. Brooks, director of the Missouri Historical Society, edited the second volume, "Recollections of the Last Ten Years in the Valley of the Mississippi," by Timothy Flint.

Graduates of the Southern Illinois University Dental Technology curriculum can now receive direct assignment as dental technicians, according to the U. S. Navy Department.

Local Swimmers Continue Winning Ways at Meet

The temperature may be dropping, but the ability of youthful Granite City swimmers to maintain their record-breaking exploits of the 1968 summer season apparently is undiminished, as one local youngster broke a three-year-old record and several others captured top trophies at the Ozark District AAU Meet, held last weekend at Ferguson-Ritenour YMCA.

Competing in the 10-and-under division, Mark Buenger, 10, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Buenger, 2128 Lindell Blvd., a Frohhardt school pupil, smashed the existing Ozark District mark in the 40-yard breaststroke event with a time of 28.3 seconds. The previous record, set in 1965, was 29.6 seconds.

The local boy also took two third place wins in the 40-yard butterfly and 160-yard freestyle relay events; a fourth place in the 160-yard individual medley and a sixth place in the 40-yard freestyle event.

One of the metropolitan area's top girl swimmers, Ann Bickhaus of Granite City captured three first place trophies—200-yard freestyle and 300-yard butterfly, competing in both events in the open division, and first place in the 100-yard butterfly for 15-17 years.

A daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Bickhaus, 2028 Manley avenue, the 15-year-old also took a third in the 160-yard individual medley and fourth in 100-yard freestyle, both in the 15-17 group; and a fourth place in the 400-yard individual medley in the open age division.

Another top local swimmer in the two-day meet, which attracted hundreds of competitors from Illinois and Missouri, was Eric Cunningham, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cunningham, 13 Frontenac lane, who tallied a second place win in the 100-yard butterfly; fourth place in 100-yard freestyle; and fifth place in the 160-yard individual medley, all in the 13-14 age group; and a fifth place in the open division's 200-yard freestyle event.

Also receiving awards were Todd Cunningham, a younger brother, who placed third in the 160-yard freestyle relay event for 10 years and under; and Paddy Jim Baggot, son of Dr. and Mrs. Gerald M. Baggot, 2850 Edison avenue, who won a first place award in the 11-12 year, 160-yard medley relay.

Terry Hollis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hollis, 3318 Wabash avenue, competing in his first place in the 11-12 year, 160-yard medley relay and took third in the 40-yard breaststroke event in the same age category.

Other local swimmers competing included Rosie and Michael Baggot and Judy and Karen Reisinger. The Granite City youngsters swim under the colors of the East St. Louis YMCA and its former Olympic swim coach, Kees Oudegeest.

The meet was the initial AAU competition of the 1968-69 season in the bi-state region.

Third Child Enlists Six Years in Marines

John Kenneth Caudron, son of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Caudron Jr., 2828 Palmer avenue, is to leave Wednesday for the U. S. Marine Corps training center at San Diego, Calif., to start a six-year enlistment in the Marines.

A 1968 graduate of Granite City high school, the youth is the third of the Caudron children to enter into military service.

Mr. and Mrs. Caudron's oldest daughter, Sandra, was in the Women's Marine Corps from 1965 to 1967, and their oldest son, James Jr., entered the Navy in September, 1967, and now is stationed at the naval air base at Virginia Beach, Va.

Conduct Rules Set by Venice School Board

Rules of conduct for athletic and other extra-curricular school events were approved by the Venice board of education at its November meeting Monday evening.

The regulations—first to be issued and formally adopted by the Venice school officials—were prepared and recommended for approval by Venice Supe. John O. Pier and Assistant Supt. Robert N. Vickers.

Violation of the rules by student-participants or student and adult spectators may result in the offender being denied admission to school events for periods up to one year. Supe. Pier explained. He said persons breaking a regulation will receive a written notice of the offense and a hearing will be conducted by the school board prior to the exclusion penalty.

The new regulations state: Directions given by school authorities or those in charge of any activity, are to be heeded and promptly obeyed.

No participant or spectator shall indulge in, be under the influence of, or have in his possession at a school event, any alcoholic or intoxicating beverage.

Loud and/or boisterous conduct, use of vulgar or profane language, or any other such conduct or behavior that

Child Care Program Offered at SIU-SW

Southern Illinois University-Southwestern campus is offering a two-year associate in arts degree program in child care services.

Robert Rockwell, head of the program, said that within a decade formal pre-school readiness programs will be as prevalent as kindergarten.

Sixty-three are currently seeking the degree, but last year there were 101 child care centers in the St. Louis area and the number may increase by at least 50% this year, Rockwell said.

Courses are now available in evening classes. With completion of degree requirements, the student is assured of meeting state law standards for child care directors and workers. The law requires at least two years of college credit within a six-year period.

In attendance were Denny Kelahan and Linda Malotki of St. Elizabeth, Steve Nomm and Isabel Hill of St. Joseph, Sharon Maurer and Rosemary McBrey of St. Mark's in Venice, Jim Greenwald and Doreen Puryear of Sacred Heart, Mike Tapp and Sandy Probert of St. Margaret Mary and John Pappas Jr. of St. Mary's in Madison.

Navy Medic Meets Nephew in Vietnam

A Navy medic attached to a Marine combat unit near Da Nang, Vietnam, who accidentally met his nephew in a Red Cross office and learned that a second nephew was aboard the aircraft carrier Bonhomme Richard, lying within visibility range offshore.

Charles wrote—"Yesterday I went to the Red Cross office, because they always have good coffee there."

"Well, it turned out they were having a mock election—candidates such as Snoopy, Phyllis Diller and so on. I asked the Red Cross girl who she thought would win and this Marine standing there says 'Hey Uncle, I was speechless. It was Douglas. I didn't know he was over here.'"

"We are about 15 miles apart and I will try to see him as often as I can. Doug is well—and in a pretty secure area. So if he writes home war stories—have a laugh. I, myself, would trade places in a minute, as I am south of Marble Mountain. We get hit two or three times a week, which is a lot better than every night."

"Well, not much else is happening, except I am back here again with the Marines (bless them). It was good to see Doug. He told me John was on the Bonhomme Richard. Maybe John's ears were ringing about a week ago as I saw her (the ship) offshore."

"I was belly deep in mud and when I saw that flat top, I thought about their dry clothes, three hot meals a day and they get $65-a-month hostile fire pay. Maybe I can get out to see John. Will certainly try."

A lifelong resident of Granite City, Medic Thompson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Thompson, new residents of Peoria, Ill. The 36-year-old son joined the Navy at the age of 17 and returned to Vietnam for the third time in August. He is serving at the present time with the Third Amphibious Battalion, First Marine Division.

Douglas, 19, a son of Mrs. Busler, 2806 West 20th street, attended Granite City high school before enlisting in the Marine Corps in 1966. Currently, he is stationed in a forward command center on Hill 444, near Da Nang, with the 26th Marines.

Extending Tour
The youth recently informed his mother that he has volunteered to extend his tour of duty in Vietnam. He expects to arrive home on a 30-day leave in January and will return to Vietnam upon its completion.

John E. Thompson, 21, has been aboard the Bonhomme Richard since June 1966. He is a 25-year-old graduate of Winona high school, Winona, Minn.

A third brother, Marine Lance

Corporal Robert W. Thompson, 18, presently is stationed at San Diego. He attended Granite City high school and volunteered for the Marine Corps in March 1967.

3rd Son Returns
The youngest Thompson son was sent to Vietnam in June. However, at the request of his mother and with assistance of U. S. Cong. Melvin Price, was returned to the States shortly after his arrival overseas under provisions of having two brothers already serving in the combat theater.

The three Thompson boys have two other uncles in the Armed Forces—brothers of Medic Thompson—Army Sgt. Kenneth David Thompson, a 12-year veteran, currently is based at the Granite City Army Depot, and Sgt. Russell Dale Thompson, a 25-year Army careerman, is in Germany.

Individuals, relatives and friends of Quad-City servicemen may still submit names and addresses for inclusion in the third annual "Yule Mail Call" project. The information should be written on a postal card or slip of paper and mailed or brought to the Press-Record office, 1815 Delmar avenue.

$3395 Available To GC for Traffic Safety Projects

Granite City is eligible for an additional $3395 in federal reimbursement funds for highway safety projects, according to information released by Illinois Public Works Director Norbert J. Johnson.

Dale Arnette, traffic safety coordinator, was notified by letter from the Illinois Division of Highways, acting for Director Johnson in the administration of the state highway safety program.

These funds are in addition to the allocation of $5720 made in January 1968, and are available for reimbursement to Granite City for expenditures made on approved highway safety projects.

Suitable safety endeavors at the municipal and county levels include such things as the identification and surveillance of accident locations, the improvement of traffic records including accident reports, surveys of traffic control devices for locations and conformance to specified standards, police training in the field of traffic control, law enforcement and accident investigation, the problems of pedestrian safety and others.

Johnson has urged authorities of municipalities and counties of Illinois to utilize such funds by developing suitable projects for inclusion in the state highway safety program.

The state program, a responsibility of Gov. Shapiro, is a part of the federal-state-local effort under provisions of the National Highway Safety Act of 1966 to provide safe operating conditions for highway users across the nation.

Vickers to Lead 'Head Start' In Madison, Venice

Robert N. Vickers, assistant superintendent of Venice schools, will serve as area director of the 1969 Summer Head Start program. It was announced at a Venice school board meeting Monday evening.

Vickers, who succeeded Wade James of Madison as director for the Venice-Madison area, said next summer's preschool program is expected to get underway June 16, "providing sufficient funds are allocated and received in time to start the project."

Raymond Ready, administrative assistant in the Alton school system, will serve as Head Start director for all Madison county schools.

Vickers told the board that county school authorities will seek a total of $108,000 from the federal government to implement the program, with local agencies required to provide in-kind contributions amounting to $17,000. The figures are identical with the amount appropriated for the current year. In the past summer, many of the teachers involved in the eight-week program remained unpaid until the final week of classes due to a delay in transmitting federal funds which had been approved several months earlier.

Should the same situation exist next summer, there is a possibility the program may not get started at all due to teachers being unwilling or unable to wait two months for their salaries, a teacher said recently.

White Way Extension to Depot Gate is Ok'd

Authorization was given Monday night by Granite City council members for extension of the downtown white way system along Niedringhaus avenue from Cleveland blvd. to the Army Depot gate.

A resolution was adopted authorizing Illinois Power Co. to install 67 lights of 20,000 lumens rating on wooden poles, with the added power cost to the city to be $164 a month.

The extension was agreed upon by council members to brighten the way from the Great River road to the downtown business district. The roadway, Federal Aid Route 151, now is under construction.

In an assortment of business, the council also authorized preparation of an ordinance for adoption of the 20-year master growth plan for the city, in order that the plan may be filed with the county to give the city jurisdiction beyond the city limits for 1 1/2 miles.

While no objection was raised to the recommendation by the City Plan Commission, Alderman Nomm said the overall plan in his opinion does not allow for future development of the West Granite area for industries. He indicated he would oppose the new zoning revisions unless changes are made.

With notification that a circuit court judgment against the city for $2000 had been handed down in an injury suit, several council members called for action to prevent the numerous suits.

To Call for State Law
City Atty. Allen was instructed to prepare a resolution to be forwarded to the state legislators of the area calling for state laws to protect the city.

In the $2000 suit, an 11-year-old boy, Paul Cavness, was hurt

Nov. 3, 1966, when he was holding onto a stop sign in East Granite and a belt broke, causing the stop sign to swing loose and crush his left little finger.

The aldermen pointed out that Granite City spends thousands of dollars to repair sidewalks and curbs and yet is hit with numerous personal injury suits as a result of falls.

Placed on file was a letter from City Atty. Allen pointing out that the city should pay court costs in connection with the recent mandamus suit for redistricting. City Comptroller Stevens was instructed to determine the actual cost.

Referred to the attorney was a request from Chow Mobile, Inc., St. Louis, an affiliate of the Davis Catering Co., for operation of three mobile food service units in the city. The amounts of city licenses are to be determined.

Police Overtime Pay
Overtime pay for policemen on duty during the recent visit by Sen. Edmund S. Muskie in his campaign for the vice-presidency was authorized. It totaled $799.

Approval was given for purchase of Civil Defense uniforms for the 13 members of the Tri-City Shrine Club motor patrol who trained to aid the CD auxiliary police. The cost was set at $780. The purchase was opposed by Aldermen Poulos, Beasch, Davies and Johnson.

Referred to the mayor was a letter from the Public Affairs Research Bureau of SIU, Carbondale, to include Granite City in a local government manpower supply and needs study to be set forth by the Illinois Board of Higher Education.

A questionnaire is to be sent to determine the city's manpower needs in the future and the type of training that might

Battery Charge Filled After Highway Mishap

Robert L. Johnson, 209 Booker street, Eagle Park Acres, was held in the Madison county jail Monday under $2500 bond on a battery charge filed after an accident occurred near the Southern Illinois University-Southwestern campus entrance Sunday at Edwardsville.

The accident occurred when an auto driven by Glenzola Blakely, 122 Roosevelt drive, Eagle Park Acres, collided with an auto driven by Franklin Armstrong of Cahokia on Route 157 where Miss Blakely was attempting to pass.

While they were waiting police to file a report, Johnson drove up, stopped and approached Armstrong with a gun, forcing him from the car. Armstrong said he was struck in the face with the gun, injuring his left eye and cheek. He was treated at Scott Air Force Base Hospital.

A passenger in the Armstrong auto, Virgil E. Swift Jr. of New Athens, said he also was struck but was not hurt. Swift, who signed the complaint, said a fight followed and was stopped by sheriff's deputy Booker Walton, who was passing the scene.

Edwardsville police found a gun lying off the highway near the scene of the collision.

Executive Outlines What Could Happen if UF Drive Falls Far Short of Goal

What could happen in the Quad-Cities if the current 1969 United Fund campaign falls short of its $387,104 goal was outlined today by John Solenberger, executive director of the Tri-Cities Area United Fund.

He stressed that the monthly budget for the 19 United Fund agencies amounts to about $32,000 a month, and that the current pledges to the 1969 operating budget fall short by nearly three months.

While an interim report by volunteers is expected this week and a regular report meeting is scheduled for next Wednesday, local disputes in the Quad-Cities has shut off wages and jobs and both large and small businesses are feeling the pinch of reduced sales and earnings, the director pointed out.

"In the past few campaigns, a small shortage in meeting the UF goal has kept the local agencies on tight budgets, and the boards of directors have reluctantly put off many services for which a need is apparent; but on the whole, programs have been continued all year long.

"The United Fund has added extra money accumulated from prior years, when goals were exceeded, but its reserve fund is now down to less than a month's payments to agencies. After this campaign, there can be no falling back on reserve funds.

"With the approach of Thanksgiving 1968, we have much to be thankful for—but concern is rising for Thanksgiving 1969.

"In 1969, the local area may have its situation in prospect about Thanksgiving time—

"Those bedfast with serious illness may find the Visiting Nurse has made her last call until 1970.

"The local area may have to cut back on its wide variety of activities—maybe even close its doors due to lack of funds to heat the building and keep it clean.

"Scoutmasters, den mothers, Girl Scout leaders may find no more services available from their council offices until the following January with hundreds of Boy and Girl Scouts unable to receive their badges earned and leaders unable to get the many training helps which hold their troops together.

"The hundreds of families who will depend on the Salvation Army for Christmas markets 1969 may find no office open to take requests for emergency aid because funds are gone to keep the dedicated Corps staff on the job.

"Adoptions in progress through Catholic Charities (Illinois Children's Home and Aid Society) could be postponed or dropped because the trained staff who match the adoptive parents and the infants have been laid off due to lack of funds.

"People who need an emergency grant to tide them over until their state aid or township relief or Social Security check comes through may have to wait without an emergency loan.

"Family strife—'Family counseling with marital troubles or child behavior difficulties or parent-child conflicts can probably be deferred for six weeks or so, and outwardly life will go on, but who can tell the number of divorces, serious disturbances in children's minds which could have been averted if the trained family caseworkers had been available at the Family Service Agency?

"And what about the young people turned away from the probation and guidance work of the Coordinated Youth Service? Our police departments and judges would have no other choice for the about a month and a half other than to put November and December 1969 delinquents in destitution, when otherwise the youngsters could have had the patient and wise counseling which in most cases would be all they required to avoid a criminal career.

"The picture in the crystal ball for Thanksgiving 1969 is a bleak one and could come to pass here—unless the present drive of the United Fund gets the support it needs.

"It is unthinkable that 19 agencies serving the community will have to close down for six weeks in 1969—or four weeks—or even one week.

"But it could happen.

"Think about it—and see what you can do about it.

"The employees of the Union Division of Miles Laboratories, the old Union Star and Refining Co., did something last week. They saw the United Fund problem and made an added pledge," the UF executive director noted.

Thanksgiving to Bring 6-Day SIU-SW Holiday

Late Starters' Coffee Tomorrow at SIU-SW

An organizational coffee for "Late Starters" will be held Friday from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. in the Cahokia-Kaskaskia rooms of the University Center at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern campus.

According to Prof. Virginia Moore of the Education Division faculty, the idea of "Late Starters" came from several women students at SIU whose college life was interrupted when they married and began raising families. Most of them are interested in completing their work toward a bachelor's degree, she said, and some of them are working for a master's degree.

Anyone interested in "joining" is welcome. Prof. Moore said. Those unable to attend the Friday coffee may secure more information by calling her at (618) 692-2236.

Most of Southern Illinois University's 31,900 students will head home for a six-day Thanksgiving holiday break Nov. 26, before returning to give the books one last week-long scrutiny for fall quarter final examinations.

The Thanksgiving vacation starts with the end of night classes at 10 p.m. Tuesday, Nov. 26, and ends with the start of morning classes on Tuesday, Dec. 3. Finals get under way the night of Dec. 10 and ends Dec. 17.

After that, another mass hometown exodus for the Christmas-New Year holidays will leave both the Carbondale and Southern Illinois campuses virtually deserted except for foreign students and others who have work commitments.

Classes will begin again with the start of the winter quarter the night of January 2. Final regular registration day for new and continuing students is Jan. 2.

RIDC Urges United Region to Spur Growth

A United Plan and a United Fund for industrial development of the eight-county bi-state metropolitan region including Madison County—was launched Monday night by the Regional Industrial Development Corporation at a reception at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern campus.

Unveiled for the first time in a single showing were more than 40 architectural projections and scale models of major commercial and industrial projects now on the drawing boards or planned for construction in the region. The bi-state chapters of the American Institute of Architects prepared the exhibit.

Political Unity Necessary
7. Political Unity to increase governmental efficiency, presented by Mayor Raymond O. Rogers, mayor of Edwardsville.

8. Labor-management stability for a climate in which industry can grow, presented by Gene Walla, president of Teamsters Local 682.

9. Labor training and retraining programs to increase the flexibility of the work force so presented by Oscar Ehrhardt, president by the St. Louis Labor Council.

Keynote speakers included Nicholas P. Veeder, chairman of the board of Granite City Steel Co.; State Rep. and Speaker of the House Ralph T. Smith of Alton; James Symington, congressman-elect from Missouri representing Missouri Gov. Warren Hearnes, and Brian B. Whalen, executive administrative assistant to Illinois Governor-Elect Richard B. Ogilvie.

Veeder pointed out that "our total region is an economic entity, which is the basic premise on which RIDC was founded. Agreement by every segment of our community on a set of regional goals is a necessary step toward regional unity. . . if we are going to compete in the national market for new business, we must be united to be successful in that competition."

Must Join Forces
Veeder added that "it is now time for the various segments of our community to join forces to accelerate our growth through a major effort with RIDC supporting both a united plan and a united fund for industrial development."

Governor-elect Ogilvie, in a statement read by Whalen, also called for joint bi-state cooperation to meet pressing problems of the region, especially industrial development.

He added that a major contributor toward expanding the area's industrial base would be location of a new metropolitan airport in Illinois.

"Illinois can and must work with our neighbors across the river," he said.

State Rep. Smith discussed the various aspects of local industrial development problems as they relate to needed legislation in the next session of the legislature.

Top Level Meeting Tomorrow

Beesigned with complaints over mud, impassable streets that sink beneath cars and other inconveniences, Granite City aldermen called for a top-level meeting of the contractor, engineering firm officials and city officers to solve the problems evolving from storm water drainage line construction.

The decision was reached during Monday night's Granite City council session, and arrangements were completed Tuesday morning by Mayor Partney, who said the meeting will be held at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow.

The mayor said top officials of the H. W. Lochner, Inc., engineering firm are to come here from Chicago to meet with city officers and officials of the S. M. Wilson Construction Co. to determine what can be done immediately.

Alderman Johnson pointed out Monday night that Warren avenue was a "sea of mud" after last weekend's rains. "We've got to alleviate this condition," Johnson remarked, can't upon Street Supt. Warfield to express his views.

Warfield commented, "This is a dirty shame the way the people are being treated. Dirt from the excavations is shoveled in front of their homes. They can't park their cars in their driveways or anywhere nearby."

Warfield—"Caught in Middle" "I have no authority to step in and do anything. This is construction, and I'm getting the blame. Whatever is done will have to be worked out between the project engineer and the contractor, and I'm caught in the middle."

"This is really bad, especially with all the rain we've had this month, I don't like it, and I want everybody to know it's not my fault," Warfield added.

Joining the discussion, Alderman Fry said street conditions were just as bad along Myrtle avenue and Victory drive. He suggested the meeting of the engineer, contractor and mayor to work out a solution.

"We've got to rid ourselves of these holes and get the mud off the streets. I know there are provisions in the contract for temporary fill, but we should arrange a meeting this week to work out a solution."

His motion was seconded by Dep. Supt. Warfield.

Sharp-Clawed Cougars Waiting to Lure 18 Rivals Into Their 'Cage'

The basketball Cougars of Southern Illinois University's Southwestern campus have been sharpening their claws under the whip of Harry J. Gallatin, head basketball coach, since Oct. 15, in preparation for a 1968-69 schedule which has been expanded and improved. This will be the second year SIU-SW has participated in intercollegiate play as an independent school associated with the National College Athletic Association (NCAA). The team finished the 1967-68 campaign with five wins and five losses.

Gallatin, who was the National Basketball Association (NBA) Association "coach of the year" in 1963 while coaching the St. Louis Hawks, reports that the SIU-SW Cougars will employ the talents of six returning lettermen. These veterans will be headed by Floyd Curry, 6'2" forward from Oakdale, Ill.

16-point Average by Dahneke Dahneke, a senior, was elected the most valuable player last year. He was also the leading scorer with an average of 18.3 points per game.

Other returning lettermen are: Gary Collins, 6'2" forward from East Alton, who averaged 10.4 points per game; Dutsy Gregory, 6'3" forward-center from Belleville, who averaged 8.2 points; Jack McDole, 6'2" forward from Staunton, who averaged 8.2 points; Nino Fennoy, 5'8" guard from East St. Louis, who averaged 5.5 points; and Mike Moore, 6'1" guard from Belleville, who averaged 2.5 points.

A major factor during this season will be the new team members who have transferred to SIU-SW from other schools. Spots on the 11-man varsity team have been claimed by five transfer students.

Eschington West Promising The most promising of these new players, is Richard Essington, 6'0" guard from Venice, Eschington, a sophomore, is a transfer student from Kansas State College on Feb. 22.

Bernie Pitts, a 6'4" guard from Alton, should also be an asset in a forward-center position. Pitts transferred from Tarkio College in Missouri.

The other transfer students are: Floyd Curry, 6'2" forward from Brooklynn, N. Y.; Tom Stein, 6'4" forward from Cahoon, Mo.; and Rick Wilbur, 6'4" forward from Kirkwood, Mo.

The 1968-69 schedule includes 18 games. Teams expected to give the Cougars their hardest battles are McKendree College on Dec. 13, Quincy College on Dec. 13 and Northeast Missouri State College on Feb. 22.

Blend of New, Old "I have a feeling that we will have a good chance of improving on last year's record. How much we improve on the percentage of games won will depend on last year's record. How much we improve on the percentage of games won will depend on last year's record. How much we improve on the percentage of games won will depend on last year's record."

"There is good individual ability on the squad, and it takes awhile for a good team to be molded from this raw material," the coach said.

All of the SIU-SW home games will be played at the Edwardsville high school gym and will begin at 8 p.m. The only exception is a doubleheader scheduled on Feb. 1 with Milton College. The games will begin at 7 p.m. and 8:30 p.m.

YMCA Soccer Phillip, Musso Named To Ill. Hall of Fame

SATURDAY

Five area sports figures, including former basketball star Andy Phillip of Granite City, will be among 150 to be included in the Illinois hall of fame Friday night in Champaign. Ceremonies will be part of the state's sesquicentennial celebration.

Others are Madison county Sheriff George Musso of Edwardsville, Virgil Fletcher of Collinsville, Bob Goobly of Belleville and Red Schoendienst, a native of Germantown.

Phillip led Granite City high school's basketball team to its sole state championship in 1949 and then starred as a "Whiz Kid" at the University of Illinois, a member of a team which was unbeaten in Big Ten competition. He later was a professional basketball player and coach.

Musso starred in professional football as a member of the Chicago Bears following his graduation from James Millikin University at Decatur.

Fletcher, head basketball coach at Collinsville high school for 23 years, is one of the top-rated coaches in the country and has more than 500 victories and two state championships.

Goobly, a golf club professional, has been a big-money winner on the circuit for some years and fast spring won the Masters championship.

Schoendienst, manager and former second baseman for the St. Louis Cardinals, was at the helm as his team won two consecutive National League baseball championships in the past two seasons.

Venice District to Take Part In Special Diagnostic Center

At their monthly meeting Monday evening, Venice school board members approved participation by the district in a new Title VI program of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act, geared to provide a second special education diagnostic center.

Participation in the project, which is being sponsored by Madison and St. Clair county school authorities in cooperation with Southern Illinois University's Southwestern campus, was urged by Board Member Jack R. Tolliver. He also serves as the Venice board's representative to the Quad-City special education district.

Tolliver said a $40,000 grant to establish the program already has received federal approval. The diagnostic center is located at 1406 Camp Jackson road (Illinois 157) in Cahokia. Burdette Thurman is serving as center director.

Diagnostic Services

Tolliver explained that the new center will augment local resources by providing a second diagnostic service for visually handicapped, physically handicapped, deaf, hard-of-hearing and multiply handicapped children.

Emphasis during the first year of the program will be on locating and evaluating the handicapped and assisting in planning for needed care and educational programs for pre-school children aged two to seven who have not enrolled in educational programs. Needed evaluations will be conducted at the center, Tolliver said.

When indicated, special teachers at the center will try recommended educational approaches with the children to be certain they are workable. Recommendations will then be sent to the children's schools to enable the school district to plan the educational program the child needs.

There is no charge for the center's services.

Director Thurman is on leave from the University of Illinois Division of Services for Crippled Children in Belleville.

The staff includes Mrs. Carol Reinking of Edwardsville, a psychologist; Mrs. Caroline Buck of East St. Louis, an audiologist and a teacher of the deaf; Mrs. Marietta Cheltn of Collinsville, a teacher of the retarded; and Mrs. Philippine Maldonado of Belleville, a secretary.

Staff Vacancy

Still being sought is a part-time teacher for the visually handicapped. Any qualified person interested may apply to the center.

Children can be referred to the center by clinics, agencies that usually deal with low-income handicapped children, and physicians or parents.

The center is the first of its kind in the two-county area. It is one of six centers in Illinois outside Cook county that received approval for federal Title VI funds, and is the only one in southern Illinois to receive approval.

Harmony-Engle-Ellis School District 175 of Belleville is administering the center, Leonard Parrish is superintendent of District 175.

The center is open from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. on regular school days. Its phone number is 332-6876.

In other business, Venice board members were invited to attend an open house and inspection tour of the Cahokia School District 187 new board of education building, set for Dec. 5, and an agenda planning meeting for the spring session of the Illinois Association of School Boards at 9:30 p.m. Monday, Dec. 5, at Augustine's restaurant, Belleville. Several board members showed interest in attending one or both events. Copies of the annual financial statement for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1968, were distributed with the report to be published in its entirety in the 20th edition of the Press-Record.

Increase Treasurer Bond

In accordance with a recommendation by the auditing firm of C. J. Schiesser of Alton, the board increased the school treasurer's bond to $675,000, a raise of $35,000.

Sup. Pier said the higher bond was recommended due to

Mrs. Esther Moore, 86, Former Teacher, Dies

Mrs. Esther Moore, 86, of Rural Route One, Alhambra, a former teacher in the Granite City school system, died Monday evening in St. Joseph's Hospital, Highland, where she was a patient a week.

She was a teacher at McKinley school before retiring about 20 years ago. She was a native of Leef township and was a member of the Salem United Church of Christ at Alhambra. She resided with a daughter, Mrs. John Marinko. She also is survived by five grandchildren and 12 great-grandchildren.

Services were set for 1:30 p.m. today at the Salem United Church of Christ, with burial in Vincent Cemetery, Alhambra.

Six Members of Hospital Staff Attend Workshop

Six members of the staff of St. Elizabeth Hospital attended a workshop on approaches to the evaluation of health care held Sunday through Tuesday at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern campus.

They are Sister Mary Thomas, administrator, Sister Mary Benedict, Mrs. Marietta Daniels, Mrs. Maureen Geraghty, Dr. John S. Riley and Dr. Harry McLean. They were among 80 medical professionals at the workshop.

Directing the workshop was Irwin Jarett, chairman of the accounting faculty. His theory is to have the professionals determine the key factors for measuring success or failure of health care delivery systems.

Research Grant

The workshop was sponsored by SIU-SW business division. The State of Illinois through the division of state technical services has granted the SIU-SW business division a research grant to develop a pilot study to determine the needs of the Southern Illinois area for a shared health information system. The workshop was a part of this program.

The group worked in small sessions to come up with purposes, objectives, and groups of objectives for health care. Jarett believes the approach cannot be put into operation in a short period of time.

The approach allows for participation management by all persons in all specialized fields involved in the decision making process.

Key to the system is the functions of management-planning, organizing, staffing, directing and controlling. He points out that if one doesn't plan one can't control.

Heart Association Gives Tips To Reduce Heart Attack Risk

Thanksgiving is in the air, along with plans for family gatherings, bountiful meals and appropriate pauses to acknowledge the blessing of the year past.

The Illinois Heart Association suggests also that everyone look ahead this Thanksgiving to a new way living that may reduce the entire family's risk of heart attack, the nation's Number One health problem.

There are many risk factors that predispose individuals to heart attack. Most persons can take steps, however, to reduce that risk. And the homemaker in her kitchen is in the best position to help all members of the family, starting with the Thanksgiving meal.

Scientists have implicated diets that are high in cholesterol and saturated fats as a prime contributor to heart attack. But there now also is growing evidence that controlling the intake of such foods may influence the progress of atherosclerosis, a hardening of the arteries which underlies most coronary heart disease.

The Heart Association has published two new booklets which can guide the homemaker in providing a family diet that is nutritionally adequate, will control weight, and regulate the amount of fats that are consumed. These are "The Way to A Man's Heart," and "Recipes for Fat-Controlled and Low Cholesterol Meals."

The diet plan outlined is mainly for adults from their twenties on who have a family history of heart disease, or who may have increased their risks through a regular diet high in saturated fat and cholesterol. Children and adolescents, especially from susceptible families, can also benefit from this meal plan by forming tastes for food early in life that may protect them from heart disease in adulthood.

While diet is only one important risk factor associated with heart disease, some of the others can be controlled or corrected. A family risk reduction plan, therefore, should include:

A diet for everyone that is nutritionally adequate, maintains a desirable weight, and reduces the intake of cholesterol and saturated fats, and increases the intake of polyunsaturated fats.

An end to cigarette smoking by the parents. They should urge their children not to take up the habit.

Regular and moderate exercise for everyone. A family doctor can advise what exercise is best.

Medical attention for anyone with high blood pressure or diabetes.

A medical checkup for even healthy individuals on a regular basis so that any developing condition may be detected and treated promptly.

Under such a plan, this Thanksgiving can be the start of better heart protection for all ages, and future Thanksgivings may take on added meaning.

SIDEWALK STEP where drainage is unsatisfactory on the southwest corner of East 24th street and Nameoki road. The city is asking the state highway department to correct the problem before the Nameoki road improvement is accepted.

East 24th and Nameoki

City Wants Action to Get Pole Relocated

The city is notifying the state highway department it will refuse to accept the improvement to the south section of Nameoki road until several dangerous conditions are eliminated—a utility pole virtually in the middle of the sidewalk at East 24th street and dangerous steps in the sidewalks on the southeast and southwest corners at the same intersection.

Alderman Moerlein said initial notices of the conditions were sent to the state two weeks ago, with no reply received by the city. He called for stronger notices to be sent to the state highway department and to Southwestern Bell Telephone Co.

Moerlein stressed that the utility pole already has caused a woman to fall into the street. "She was carrying a sack of groceries and bumped into the pole, and it knocked her down, spilling the groceries. It was just lucky that a car wasn't travelling in the lane. There's only 6 1/2-inch clearance between the pole and a retaining wall and just 14 inches from the pole to the outer edge of the curb."

"Could Cause Lawsuits?" "Something has to be done to correct this situation before we accept the project and before we are subject to more lawsuits," the alderman stated.

Alderman Green obtained permission for the street department to install steps between the sidewalk and curb in front of the Tadlock Barber shop, 2024 Illinois avenue, where there is an extremely high curb.

An unpaid engineering bill for special improvement projects and other work was presented to the council by Alderman Johnson, who called for a study by the Finance committee to determine a method of payment since no funds were included in the city's current budget for engineering.

Kenneth Lieberger of Research Planning & Design Associates pointed out that $4800 would be needed for services on the city's budgeted $109,000 special improvement projects and he cautioned on the timing of the work, since delays during winter months could cost as much as 15% to 25%.

He added that the firm had not yet received its $300-a-month consultant retainer since May 1, the start of the city's fiscal year, and that $2070 is due, including special work carried out last November. It was noted a "cushion" in the $109,000 budgeted for special improvements could amount to about $2500, if savings are accomplished.

Fund Transfer Later in the meeting, a resolution was approved to transfer $2803 from the sales tax

POLE-IN-SIDEWALK PROBLEM on the northeast corner of East 24th street and Nameoki road being measured by Alderman Moerlein, who is calling for stern action against the state highway department to get the pole relocated.

reserve to the special improvement fund to meet the costs of sidewalk projects along Edgewood drive and 26th street that exceeded budgeted amounts.

The transfer was opposed by Fry and Jarrett, and its legality was challenged by Alderman Rutledge. City Atty. Allen advised the transfer should be made within the special improvement account itself, but Alderman Parmley pointed out that it has been customary to transfer from sales tax to provide funds for special improvement projects.

Alderman Norn, who recently had the downtown district added to his Fifth Ward, said he had made an inspection of the area and would recommend complete cooperation of the city and downtown retailers to improve the area.

Norn said sidewalk repairs are being carried out, but that he believes federal planning funds—not urban renewal funds—would be available. City Atty. Allen was assigned the task of determining the proper agency and method of making application.

Downtown Mall "We need to start as quickly as possible to keep the downtown district from going downhill. I've seen malls in other cities, such as Danville, and it might not be a bad idea to upgrade our business district. The merchants are willing to help."

In other action, the council authorized the mayor or the police chief to attend the state Liquor Commission conference to be held Dec. 15-16 at Chicago. The registration fee is $20 and there would be expenses for travel and accommodations.

Mayor Partney, who is city liquor commissioner, said he did not care to attend and the notice was to be placed on file, when Norn amended the motion to authorize the mayor or chief to attend. "It's important the city keep abreast of any developments," he added.

Husband of Quad-Cityan Given Medal in Vietnam

U. S. Air Force Airman First Class Francis M. Vaughan, husband of the former Eleanor E. Prusack of Granite City, received the Air Medal at Phu Cat AB, Vietnam, for air action in Southeast Asia.

Airman Vaughan was decorated for meritorious achievement as a flight engineer. He was cited for his outstanding airmanship and courage on successful and important missions under hazardous conditions, according to the citation. He is a graduate of Ritener high school, St. John, Mo.

Current Fashion 'Look'
Demand Good Fit
Designers refer to special "looks" each season and the "pant look" seems to be more popular than ever. But this is one look that demands proper fit for attractiveness.

Esther Siemep University of Illinois Extension clothing specialist, emphasizes that proper fit means a neat, smooth appearance along with enough ease for movement. Because ready-to-wear pants are designed for specific figure types, the fit will vary among the different makes. By trying various makes, you have the opportunity to locate the garment that is proportioned to your needs.

But achieving fashionable fit may be more difficult for women who sew their own clothes. Perhaps no item of women's clothing provides more fitting problems than do pants. Miss Siemep suggests that patterns for pants be selected according to hip measurement, not waist. Before cutting the garment, take additional body measurements—waist, crotch length, instep and leg length. Measure crotch length while sitting on a flat surface—from waist-line around the curve of the hip to the surface.

Measurements alone, of course, will not insure a good fit. Since it is impossible to take exact measurements in some areas, Miss Siemep recommends that you make a trial garment in inexpensive fabric. When you have fitted the garment correctly, you will have the basis for a "master" pattern for future use.
Some adjustments that you would make in a skirt can also be made in pants. For instance, hip and waist size will be the same for a straight skirt or slim pants.
When checking fit, wear the foundation garment you plan to wear with the outfit. Here are some fitting "clues" for overall appearance:

—Garment has no unsightly horizontal, diagonal or vertical wrinkles or strain lines.
—Center and side seams divide the figure in half.
—Front view silhouette lines are straight from hipline to lower hemline of legs. From waistline to hipline, the fabric should lie smoothly, but not tightly, along the curve of the body.
—Side silhouette shows a slight smooth curve following body lines from waistline to hipline in front and back. From the hipline down, the fabric falls in lines determined by the style of garment.
—Waistline is snug and hip line is trim but not snug.
—Crotch seamline follows body curves easily but not tightly. Too much length in this area causes the garment to sag.

—Smooth hemline hangs evenly around the ankles and does not buckle on the instep.
—A proper amount of ease is distributed evenly throughout the garment. The amount of ease may vary 1 to 3 inches at the hip, 2 to 4 inches at the knee, 2 to 3 inches at the ankle, and 1 to 2 inches in the crotch length.
The type of fabric will have some influence on the amount of ease that is needed. Stretch or knit fabrics or others with "give" do not require as much ease allowance as extremely firm fabrics do.
How to Choose A Study Lamp
Provide good study lamps at home to help reduce study fatigue.

K. Virginia Seidel, University of Illinois Extension home furnishings specialist, gives some tips on choosing study lamps.
A good study lamp needs to carry at least a 150-watt bulb and have proper diffusers. Light should move upward and downward and through the shade, but the source of light should not show.
The distance from the top of the desk to the bottom of the shade should measure about 15 inches. When the user is seated, his eyes should be nearly in line with the bottom of the shade.
To be effective, pin-up lamps should be used in pairs with each shade measuring 9 to 10 inches across the bottom. When using a single wall lamp, be sure that the lower diameter of the shade is at least 15 inches and that the shade flares sharply.

Bullet, goose-neck and pole lamps make poor reading lights, because they provide only a narrow spread of light and give little or no upward light.
Good study lamps allow diffusion of light—directing light both up and down. Diffusion adapters and bowls will increase the amount and softness of light falling onto the work surface.
A small high-intensity lamp should not be used alone for reading or study. Use it to add to other lighting when you need a very high level of light.
